McCarthy's Move To Force Big 4 Russian Satellite Talks Rejected

Senator's Plan Is Voted Down By Committee

WASHINGTON, June 21 (AP)—The Senate Foreign Relations Committee voted down tonight a resolution designed to force a discussion of the status of Russia's Iron Curtain satellites at the Big Four conference July 18.

The Senate may reject the resolution tomorrow.

The administration and Democratic and Republican leaders in the Senate joined forces against McCarthy on grounds the Senate has no business trying to dictate what must come up at the delicate "summit" meeting in Geneva.

Democrats' Strategy

The Democratic strategy was to bring his resolution to the floor with an adverse vote from the Foreign Relations Committee, then tap it on the head. That would scuttle any argument that the Senate didn't get a chance at it. The resolution would put the Senate on record as declaring Russia should agree in advance to discuss the satellite question at the forthcoming top-level conference.

Undersecretary of State Herbert Hoover Jr., Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon Johnson of Texas, Republican Leader Knowland of California, and former Vice President Barkley (D-Ky) took turns jumping on the McCarthy proposal.

Move Called Inadvisable

Hoover testified that agreements already have been reached that the Big Four can call up "any subject" they believe contributes to world tension—with the idea of avoiding rows over "fixing a rigid agenda."

He called the McCarthy resolution inadvisable because it "calls for a prior agreement on the subjects for discussion as a prerequisite for the holding of the conference."

Some of the others used less restrained language. Johnson said the resolution would "place a loaded gun at the President's temple" and tell the world that Congress doesn't trust him and Secretary of State Dulles.

Mrs. Roosevelt Divorces Jimmy

PASADENA, Calif., June 21 (AP)—Congressman James Roosevelt was divorced today by the wife who once accused him of misconduct with a dozen women.

The former Romelle Schneider, 39, told Superior Judge Kurtz Kauffman in a surprise hearing that lasted only four or five minutes.

"Over a long period of time he was in the habit of staying out late and often stayed away all night."

She said her husband, eldest son of the late President Roosevelt, would not give an account of where he had been when he was away all night.

A property stipulation agreed to last June remains in effect. Under it she receives $1,625 a month support for herself and their three young children, James Jr., Michael Anthony and Anna Eleanor.

Mrs. Roosevelt was granted an interlocutory decree—final in a year—by default of her amended complaint that asked a divorce on grounds of extreme cruelty.

Originally she had asked separate maintenance, and Roosevelt had countersued for divorce.

Runaway Truck Takes Tragic Toll At Johnstown

One Johnstown, Pa., motorist was killed and four other persons were injured by this runaway tractor-trailer truck yesterday. The truck smashed an automobile into the sunporch of a home, sheared off a telephone pole and caused thousands of dollars damage. Alex Waynik, 32, Johnstown, was killed at the wheel of his car. The truck driver, William Roberts, Rodueo, N. C., was slightly hurt.

Amount Of Steel Pay Hike Seems Only Obstacle

PITTSBURGH, June 21 (AP)—The word "substantial" appeared today to be the only possible obstacle to a peaceful settlement between the CIO United Steelworkers and the basic steel industry in current wage negotiations.

The union, already assured of a wage increase, says the pay boost must be "substantial" if a strike is to be avoided.

That means the union and steel companies have nine days to work out a mutual definition for the word. The union will be free to strike if an agreement is not reached by midnight June 30.

U. S. Steel Corp., the world's biggest producer, and Bethlehem Steel Corp., the nation's second biggest producer, have assured the union they will offer a wage increase before the end of this week.

Assurance came yesterday from U. S. Steel. Bethlehem gave similar assurance at a two-hour meeting today.

Vice President Joseph M. Larkin of Bethlehem said after meeting with union President David J. McDonald and top union negotiators: "We came here to work out a settlement fair to all concerned. We are going to discuss what the wage increase should be."

Korean Red Fliers Quit Communists

SEOUL, June 21 (AP)—Two young airmen slipped out of Red North Korea today in a Russian fighter plane, scooped under the allied radar screen into Seoul airport and surrendered to cheering South Koreans.

"We want to surrender," Republic of Korea air force officers quoted them.

They were taken to South Korea air force headquarters for interrogation.

ROK officers said the two obviously were fleeing the Communists. There was no immediate official word on why they quit the Reds or how they managed to get to Seoul without being shot down.

Europe Combed For Five Sought In U.S. Bank Holdup

ROME, June 21 (AP)—A vast manhunt spread over Western Europe tonight for four men and a woman who may know secrets of the greatest robbery of cash from a bank in U. S. history.

Led by a fat New Yorker in a sailor sweater, they are lost among the carefree thousands of Americans holidaying in Europe.

The FBI remained silent in Washington, but it was on American request that word crackled out from Interpol, the nerve-center of international crime detection, to find and put under surveillance, but not to arrest:

Giuseppe Michael di Tacco, also known as John di Tacco, 37, a New Yorker.

John Timothy O'Connell, 35, of New York.

Daniel William MacGuire, 28, of New York.

Diluted Reserve Bill Sidetracked

WASHINGTON, June 21 (AP)—In a bipartisan revolt against Chairman Vinson (D-Ga.), the House Armed Services Committee balked today at swift action on a new, diluted bill to build up the military reserves.

Runaway Mower Angers Motorist

GLEN BURNIE, Md., June 21 (AP)—Ottis Morley told today how his power mower got away from him and went chugging across Crain Highway with no one in control.

Morley said a motorist, who narrowly missed the machine, reacted in the characteristic manner of angry drivers everywhere.

He honked at it.

Soviet Attempt To Bar HST U.N. Speech Fails

SAN FRANCISCO, June 21 (AP)—The Russians attempted in vain to prevent a speech by former President Harry S. Truman during the 10th U. N. birthday celebrations, informed sources said today.

These sources, who declined to be identified or quoted, said the Soviet delegation sent a junior member to protest to Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld.

The Russians were said to have remarked that Truman represented a policy they did not approve.

Hammarskjöld was reported by these sources to have replied he was inviting Truman personally and would take full responsibility.

"We want to surrender," Republic of Korea air force officers quoted them.

Soviet U.N. Deal

SAN FRANCISCO, June 21 (AP)—Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov was reported tonight agreeable to the admission of three non-Communist and three Communist countries to the U. N.

It was reported by diplomats that Molotov has agreed to let in Austria, Italy and Finland, plus Hungary, Romania and Bulgaria.

They are suspected of complicity in the holdup of the Woodside, Queens, branch of the Chase Manhattan Bank last April 6. The robbers got away with a record haul of $305,243 in cash. The district attorney of Queens said the men sought in Italy had been under surveillance and if they returned to the United States they would be questioned.

New York City police authorities insisted the group was not wanted, but Asst. Dist. Atty. Thomas P. Cullen of Queens said they had been investigated.

Cullen said he became interested in at least some members of the group because of "certain information and rumors."

Resignation Of Scelba Cabinet Due Today

ROME, June 21 (AP)—Government quarters said tonight that Premier Mario Scelba probably will submit the resignation of his 15-month old coalition Cabinet tomorrow.

The Cabinet has been called to meet tomorrow to consider the situation caused by a split among the Premier's Christian Democrats and the failure of the small Republican party in the coalition to promise support on a vote of confidence scheduled to come up Thursday.

Yesterday Scelba attempted to heal the breach in his own party and strengthen his alliance with the minor parties of the government by reshuffling his Cabinet. The Christian Democrats' Board of Directors admitted tonight that this had been a failure.

Second Wreck Fatal

PITTSBURGH, June 21 (AP)—Last Saturday James Truax, 19, of Clearville, Pa., escaped injury in an auto wreck near his home. Today he was one of two persons killed in a traffic smashup near there. Five other persons were injured.

Big 4 Agree On Top-Level Parley Plans

Molotov Accepts West's Blueprint For Geneva Talks

SAN FRANCISCO, June 21 (AP)—The Big Four foreign ministers appeared today to have completed arrangements for parleys of their chiefs of government in Geneva next month aimed at easing world tension.

Encouraged by this development, British Foreign Secretary Harold Macmillan appealed for a further easing of tension between the East and West. He was the first of the big power ministers to address the 10th anniversary session of the U. N.

Fresh encouragement was seen by U. N. delegates in a pronouncement in Moscow by Premier Bulganin. He pledged to do all possible to lower tension and instill confidence among nations at the Geneva conference.

This followed a similar commitment by President Eisenhower yesterday in opening the San Francisco U. N. conference of 1955.

Macmillan met last night with Secretary of State John Foster Dulles of the United States, Foreign Minister Antoine Pinay of France, and Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov of the Soviet Union. The four emerged early today after a session of more than four hours with smiles all around and the word that arrangements were practically completed.

Molotov was reported to have told the Western ministers that at first sight their proposals for the meeting were acceptable. He said he would have them translated and would turn in an answer without delay.

No More Meetings Scheduled

The Western Powers felt so certain of Soviet acceptance that they did not schedule another meeting of the foreign ministers in advance of the top-level meetings beginning in Geneva July 18. They will meet at various social functions and at the U. N. meetings before Macmillan departs tomorrow night but the spade-work for the Geneva meetings appeared completed.

This means that President Eisenhower, who ranks the others as a head of state as well as chief of government, will preside at the first meeting in Geneva. Bulganin will preside at the end. The chiefs will be seated in alphabetical order and they will arrange to restrict the meetings to four or six days.

"The Body," Shoe Magnate Rewed

HOLLYWOOD, June 21 (AP)—Actress Marie (The Body) McDonald has remarried the shoe magnate she divorced because, she said, she was allergic to him.

Her mother, Mrs. Marie Tuboni, disclosed today Miss McDonald and wealthy shoe manufacturer Harry Karl were wed in Yuma, Ariz., about a week ago. Legal technicalities five times kept the headline-making pair from accomplishing this abroad in the month after their divorce.

Miss McDonald divorced Karl last Nov. 23 in Las Vegas, Nev., on grounds of mental cruelty. Twelve days later they arrived by plane in Paris with romantic plans for immediate remarriage. But legal technicalities blocked them.

Back here, the blonde beauty said early in January the remarriage plans were all off.

Employers and employees alike now pay 2 per cent on earnings up to $4,200 a year.

Carney Says Red Navies Challenge U.S.

LOS ANGELES, June 21 (AP)—Growing Communist navies are challenging allied supremacy in Pacific waters, Adm. Robert B. Carney, chief of naval operations, declared today.

The Soviet fleet shaping up in the Western Pacific and the Barents Sea is "venturing ever farther and farther from its own shores," said Carney. And he pointed out that an embryo navy is forming under the flag of Red China.

Rampaging Natural Gas Well Is Tamed

RENOVO, Pa., June 21 (AP)—A natural gas well which blew its cap six days ago was tamed today by an emergency 17-man crew braving possible fire and explosion to slip a new valve in place.

The recapping operation time, was a ticklish business involving a bulldozer, a crane and a pair of daring men who crouched in a well-side trench to slip the valve bolts in place at the proper split second.

Lloyd Paul Stryker, Hiss Attorney, Dies

NEW YORK, June 21 (AP)—Lloyd Paul Stryker, 70, defense attorney for Alger Hiss in one of the great criminal trials of this generation, died today.

One of New York's most renowned trial lawyers, Stryker was able to get a hung jury in the first Hiss trial. Later, the former State Department official dropped Stryker, got a new set of lawyers and was convicted and sent to prison in a retrial.

Ike Rebuffed On Social Security Open Hearings

WASHINGTON, June 21 (AP)—Democrats bent on driving through their own plan for new social security benefits today squelched a high-powered administration effort to slow them down.

With the Democrats in control, the House Ways and Means Committee voted 15-10 against a Republican move to force public hearings on the proposals.

The vote ran true to party lines. It came after President Eisenhower was quoted as favoring open sessions on the Democratic program to liberalize social security benefits for women, disabled workers and incapacitated dependents.

Mrs. Hobby Urges Review The action also followed an assertion by Secretary of Welfare Hobby that "a thoroughgoing review and inquiry into the issues raised . . . are essential."

The committee met privately to begin three days of closed meetings called by Chairman Cooper (D-Tenn.) to weigh these proposals:

1. Make women covered by the program, including wives and widows of retired workers, eligible for benefits at 62. The minimum age is now 65.

2. Allow benefits immediately to totally and permanently disabled workers. They also must now wait until they reach 65.

3. Continue benefits after age 18 to physically or mentally incapacitated dependents of insured workers. All dependents are now cut off the rolls at 18.

Mrs. Hobby, in a protesting letter to Cooper, said the changes would cost more than two billion dollars a year.

As the legislation stands, no provision is made for a raise in the social security tax. But Democrats acknowledge any substantial widening of the program would necessitate an increase.

Employers and employees alike now pay 2 per cent on earnings up to $4,200 a year.

Carney Says Red Navies Challenge U.S.

LOS ANGELES, June 21 (AP)—Growing Communist navies are challenging allied supremacy in Pacific waters, Adm. Robert B. Carney, chief of naval operations, declared today.

The Soviet fleet shaping up in the Western Pacific and the Barents Sea is "venturing ever farther and farther from its own shores," said Carney. And he pointed out that an embryo navy is forming under the flag of Red China.

Over Million Americans Have Given Up Smoking

WASHINGTON, June 21 (AP)—The government today made public an estimate that 1½ million Americans who were cigarette smokers have quit smoking entirely within the last 18 months.

It estimated that 38 million others are regular cigarette smokers—25 million men and 13 million women.

The estimates were based on a sample of about 40,000 persons surveyed by the Census Bureau for the National Cancer Institute of the Public Health Service.

"The data will be of value to National Cancer Institute statisticians and physicians who are studying the incidence of cancer in the population—particularly lung cancer—in relationship to smoking habits," the Health Service's announcement said.

The 1½ million persons believed to have stopped cigarette smoking in the past 18 months compares with 600,000 estimated to have quit in the previous year, from the fall of 1952 to the fall of 1953.

Officials said they did not have figures for the years before the fall of 1952. Thus there was no way of telling just how many of those who stopped smoking were influenced by the public discussion, under way for several years, as to a possible relation between cigarettes and lung cancer. Officials said some of those who quit cigarettes may start smoking them again later.

The Health Service said a number of laboratory and field studies are underway by the Health Service and by other agencies and institutions with the aid of federal grants or other financial support.

Cooperation Is Promised By Bulganin

Soviet Will Strive To Reduce Tension At "Summit" Talks

MOSCOW, June 21 (AP)—Premier Nikolai Bulganin declared today the Soviet Union will strive to reduce international tension and consolidate confidence among nations at the Big Four top-level conference next month.

He made the statement to 100,000 persons packing Dynamo Stadium to honor India's Prime Minister Nehru, who is winding up a two-week visit to Russia. Nehru announced earlier that Bulganin had accepted an invitation from him to visit India, perhaps next winter.

Bulganin devoted most of his speech to praise of Nehru and to measures he said the Soviet Union is taking to ease world tension. Among these he listed the forthcoming talks among himself, President Eisenhower, British Prime Minister Eden and French Premier Edgar Faure.

Nehru Wildly Cheered

"The Soviet government has agreed to take part in the conference of the heads of government of the four powers which is scheduled to open in Geneva July 18," he said.

"The Soviet Union will strive there for a lessening of tension and a consolidation of confidence among nations, and the Soviet Union hopes that the other participants will strive toward the same ends."

Nehru was greeted with wild cheering, especially when he said that exclusion from the United Nations of "the great Chinese People's Republic (Red China) is not only an abnormal phenomenon, but also a danger to peace."

Nehru returned today from a tour of Russian industrial centers and farm areas. Before going to the Dynamo rally the Prime Minister resumed talks at the Kremlin with Bulganin, Communist party boss Nikita S. Khrushchev and other Soviet leaders. A joint communiqué summing up the discussions probably will be issued before Nehru leaves Moscow Thursday morning.

Hopes For Ally In India

Bulganin told the stadium crowd he hoped that in the person of Nehru and the Indian government "we shall have an ally and friend in the implementation of the comprehensive and radical program for the reduction of armaments and the prohibition of atomic and hydrogen weapons proposed by the Soviet government."

He said India and the Soviet Union are "making joint efforts to solve successfully the problem of Taiwan (Formosa), taking into account the national interests of the Chinese people."

Conferees Cut Doctors' Draft Age Maximum

WASHINGTON, June 21 (AP)—A Senate-House conference committee agreed today to cut five years off the maximum age for inducting doctors and dentists under new draft legislation.

Doctors and dentists now can be taken into the armed services through age 50. The conferees agreed to make it through age 45 in a bill to extend the doctors' draft another two years.

The agreement broke a congressional deadlock over extension authority.

Sen. Russell (D-Ga.) told newsmen that senators were "compelled to yield five years" in order to win acceptance of a compromise by House conferees.

"I did it very reluctantly," said Russell, chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee and head of its conferees on a bill to extend both the special doctors' draft and the regular draft of young men 18 to 26 years old. He explained the change may make it difficult for the armed services to get experienced medical specialists, many of whom are in the upper age brackets.

Both the House and Senate previously had approved the four-year extension of the regular draft, which expires June 30.

But the House Rules Committee, under heavy pressure from medical and dental leaders, had blocked House action on a two-year extension of the authority to draft medical men, which also expires at the end of the month.

Argentine Shakeup Rumor Unconfirmed

Peron Works On At Official Tasks

BUENOS AIRES, June 21 (AP)—The structure of Argentina's government remained unchanged today despite speculation it would be reorganized in the wake of last week's brief revolt.

President Juan D. Peron took the limelight again in official announcements and newspapers as he held a busy round of conferences with government officials.

Rumors published abroad that his administration would be replaced soon by a three-man or five-man junta were without any hint of confirmation here.

News dispatches from Argentina have been subjected to censorship since the army suppressed the uprising staged last Thursday by navy fliers and marines.

Army Minister Maj. Gen. Frankling Lucero, now supreme commander of all armed forces, issued a communique in the early morning saying the situation is "steadily normalizing without any inconvenience." But thereafter there was no official or unofficial report of Lucero's activities.

A government announcement said Peron worked as usual at his official tasks "in company with his closest associates attending the affairs of government. His regular offices are closed while the wreckage of Government House, in downtown Buenos Aires, is being cleared. His government headquarters were the principal target of the revolt.

Nevertheless, there was no doubt that Lucero remained in full control of the nation's security forces, responsible for maintaining internal peace. His morning communique ridiculed rumors circulating in Buenos Aires that there are disagreements within the armed forces or between the forces and the government.

It recounted and denied other rumors that the Argentine navy had fled to Montevideo, Uruguay, and would return to attack the capital.

The communique said 18 planes employed in the bombing of the Government House neighborhood Thursday had been flown back from Uruguay. They had been taken there by fugitive pilots and were returned by junior officers who declared they had no voluntary part in the revolt.

Polar Jet Flight Set

LONDON, June 21 (AP)—The first intercontinental trans-polar jet flight is set for Thursday, the British Air Ministry said tonight.

A Canberra two-engine jet bomber of the British RAF will take off at 9 p. m. local time from the Royal Norwegian Air Force Base at Bardufoss, northern Norway.

If all goes as planned, the Ariels IV will arrive at the Ladd U. S. Air Force Base at Fairbanks, Alaska, at 5 p. m. local time the same night.

Assembly Approves Hike In Pennsylvania Truck Weight Limits

HARRISBURG, Pa., June 21 (AP)—The General Assembly today passed finally legislation increasing truck weight limits in Pennsylvania.

Both Senate and House participated in the final action which sent the long-disputed measure to Gov. George M. Leader.

The Senate, without a word of debate, passed the bill 40-5 to increase the maximum weight of commonly used trucks from 45,000 to 60,000 pounds. The House quickly approved Senate amendments.

The truck weight issue has been hotly debated for years in the Assembly. In 1951, both branches passed a somewhat similar bill but the then governor, John S. Fine, vetoed it.

'Starving' Girl Aided By Judge

CHICAGO, June 21 (AP)—Judge Emmett Morrissey of the Municipal Court looked down at the woman who stood before his bench. He listened closely.

The woman, Mrs. Sarah Lee, 26, is the mother of three children and is expecting another. She said her husband, Joseph, left her three months ago.

A firm of real estate managers was seeking to evict her because she was three months behind in the rent.

Judge Morrissey asked why Mrs. Lee had not sought public relief funds.

A neighbor, Mrs. Antoinette Hargo, told him:

"The poor girl is starving. She didn't have enough money to pay her car fare to the relief office. I had to pay her carfare to court."

Judge Morrissey reached into his pocket and handed Mrs. Lee a handful of bills.

S. Edward Bloom, attorney for the real estate company, plucked a $5 bill from his wallet and gave it to her.

The judge issued an eviction order. But he allowed Mrs. Lee 15 days in which to make arrangements for rent money with the relief agency.

Then the judge leaned forward and whispered:

"When the 15 days are up, and you still don't have any place to live, come back here and see me."

U.S.-Japan Atom Pact

WASHINGTON, June 21 (AP)—Japan and the United States today signed an agreement for cooperation in peaceful atomic development.

Army Overseas Swap Operation To Start July 2

WASHINGTON, June 21 (AP)—The largest overseas Army movement in peacetime—ultimately involving Atlantic crossings for about 45,000 soldiers, wives and children—gets under way July 2.

Army officials explained today the first big scale rotation of forces, the simultaneous transfer of the 1st Division from Germany to Ft. Riley, Kan., and the 10th Division from Riley to Germany. It is "Operation Gyroscope."

Involved is a tremendous swapping operation—including an exchange of about everything but wives. Many families of the 1st Division will leave homes, furnishings (and possibly even pets) for their opposites in the 10th Division to take over on arrival in Germany.

The soldiers of the infantry divisions will take with them only their rifles and clothing. Artillery, vehicles, supplies—all the tons of equipment of a division—will be left at Ft. Riley and in Germany, with the stenciled divisional insignia changed to fit the new users.

Operation Gyroscope is the Army's name for the plan to rotate units overseas in cycles averaging 32 months. Under that plan the 1st and 10th Divisions are "sister" organizations. They will continue to rotate between Germany and Ft. Riley.

Davy Crockett 'Wild,' Divorced

DETROIT, June 21 (AP)—Davy Crockett was divorced today.

Mrs. Gertrude Crockett, 39, won the uncontested decree after she testified her husband, David, deserted her 20 years ago. She said he beat her frequently in their three months of marriage.

"Was he the king of the wild frontier?" asked the judge.

"I don't know about being king," Mrs. Crockett said, "but he sure was wild."

Marijuana Field Found

CHICAGO, June 21 (AP)—A field of marijuana four miles long with an estimated retail value of more than two million dollars has been found growing in Southwestern Cook County (Chicago).

Taking Bruin Ride Costs Cyclist $425

LACONIA, N. H., June 21 (AP)—Taking a stuffed bear for a ride on a motorcycle proved an expensive venture for Harold E. Lussier of Holyoke, Mass. It cost him $425 in fines and damages.

Police said Lussier, 27, took bruin, a photography prop, on his cycle Sunday morning.

He pleaded guilty yesterday to larceny and operating a motorcycle while under the influence of liquor.

In addition to a $175 fine he was ordered to pay the owner, Junior Bemis, $250 for damages incurred when the bear's paws dragged on the pavement.

Model Who Slew Lover To Hang

LONDON, June 21 (AP)—A beautiful platinum blonde, Mrs. Ruth Ellis, was sentenced today to death by hanging for killing her lover because he jilted her.

She made but one defense in the dramatic trial: Jealousy had so worked on her mind that an emotional disturbance unseated her reason.

Therefore, Mrs. Ellis, 28, a divorcee with two children, sought through counsel a reduction of the charge against her to manslaughter by reason of provocation. It was an unusual defense, but the court threw it out.

"I had a peculiar idea I wanted to kill him," Mrs. Ellis, a well-known figure in Mayfair nightclub life, had told the jury.

She appeared unmoved as the jury of 10 men and two women filed in after 24 minutes of deliberation and found her guilty of the premeditated murder of David Blakely, 25, a racing motorist, outside a London tavern on Easter Sunday. She had pumped four bullets into his body. Two other bullets went wide, one hitting a passerby.

Judge Sir Cecil Havers pronounced the death sentence on the onetime night club manageress.

If Mrs. Ellis hangs, she will be the 14th woman executed in Britain this century. In all but the most vicious of crimes, the home secretary usually reprieves women murderers.

Cotton frequently is called a contraband of war because it is the principal ingredient of smokeless powder.

Vermonters Ready To Entertain Ike

RUTLAND, Vt., June 21 (AP)—Agricultural Vermonters chopped down an elm tree and readied thousands of chickens for barbecue as they completed plans tonight to welcome President Eisenhower.

Tomorrow afternoon the chief executive will fly into Rutland on his first visit to the Green Mountain state since he entered the White House. It will be the initial stop of a six-day Northern New England tour that will include several "off the cuff" talks, chats with Republican leaders, some golf and fishing.

The elm tree was cut down at the suggestion of Secret Service men who thought it presented a hazard. The tree, on the farm of Amherst Weeks, was about 1,000 feet from the end of Rutland airport runway.

Race Driver Sued In Death Of Rival

PARIS, June 21 (AP)—A $100,000 law suit by the widow of one driver against another driver claiming he was responsible for her husband's death added a unique twist today to one of the most tragic of all automobile racing seasons.

At Bern, Switzerland, organizers of the Swiss Grand Prix decided to cancel this year's auto and motorcycle races out of sympathy for the 79 victims in the LeMans, France, race. The Swiss event was scheduled Aug. 20-21.

The lawsuit here was brought by the widow of Guy Mairesse, who was killed a year ago at Montherly track during a trial run, against a driver named Jean Gamot.

Mrs. Mairesse claims Gamot, driving a smaller car, refused to let Mairesse go by during the test run.

President Signs Trade Measure

WASHINGTON, June 21 (AP)—President Eisenhower signed today a bill granting him more power to lower tariffs and hailed it as a demonstration of unity at home and expanded "mutual security" for the free world.

The new law extends for three years, to June 30, 1958, the Trade Agreements Act put on the books 21 years ago. It empowers the President to cut tariffs 5 per cent in each of those years on goods from countries which reciprocate with similar concessions. The State Department probably will start now arranging a conference of 30-odd nations to begin dickerings. With nine pens for souvenirs, Eisenhower put his name on the bill in the presence of congressional leaders of both parties in a ceremony in the White House cabinet room.

Atomic Power Study
DETROIT, June 21 (AP)—A $100,000 study of atomic power for industry was announced today by the Ford Motor Co.

Law Cutting Firemen's Working Hours Causes W.Va. Headaches

CHARLESTON, W. Va., June 21 (AP)—The 1955 Legislature laid a heavy new drain on West Virginia's hard-pressed municipal treasuries without any financing provisions whatever.

The situation has set the local budget-planners to scratching for a solution of their individual problems before annual budgets are submitted for State approval on Aug. 1.

There have been no protests that the legislation is unsound as a practical matter; the cities say they just don't know where the money is coming from.

The provisions of the 1955 Act in question are simple. They merely reduce the working hours of city firemen from 72 hours in a seven-day period to 60 hours.

For a city like Huntington, that means $84,000 in additional annual cost for running the municipal government.

For Charleston, it means ultimately hiring a minimum of 18 more firemen at an annual cost of about $60,000 plus.

The West Virginia Inspection Bureau will be the final arbiter on how well or how inadequately the various municipalities work out their own destinies.

It is taking a tolerant viewpoint, giving the local governments ample time to conform with the new law.

Actually, the law took effect on June 12 but there was no pressure to implement it immediately because cities already are operating Others with part - paid and part-volunteer departments include: Beckley, Logan, Welch, Martinsburg, Weirton, South Charleston, Dunbar and perhaps others.

The Inspection Bureau says it does not know of a locality on the list that won't need at least two additional firemen.

Girl, 17, Leaves Jail For Exams

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., June 21 (AP)—A 17-year-old high school girl left her jail cell yesterday to take her final senior examinations. She is due to graduate next Monday.

Barbara Palmattier, of an old Poughkeepsie family, was arrested in Miami, Fla., last week on a warrant issued here after she ran away with 25-year-old Joseph Lee Jr., of Highland, N. Y.

The girl was charged with being a wayward minor and Lee with abduction. Both were placed in Dutchess County jail here.

Dist. Atty. Raymond Baratta consented to parole her in the custody of Max A. Reutershan, high school principal, to enable her to take final exams. She has two more tests this week.

Barbara was described as a good student, well liked by her teachers and classmates.

Stubborn Man Lone Pullman Car Passenger

WASHINGTON, June 21 (AP)—An adamant Washington-bound railroad traveler rolled into Washington Sunday, the lone passenger aboard a Pullman car because he had convinced the Pennsylvania Railroad he wasn't in the mood to make an unscheduled transfer to another train.

Recipient of this special treatment, it was learned today, from the railroad was Arthur R. Guedel, 43, of Indianapolis, Ind., sales manager of a construction equipment firm there.

Here's the sequence of events: Saturday afternoon Guedel boarded the second section of the Pennsy's "Spirit of St. Louis" in Indianapolis with a through ticket to Washington.

En route to Harrisburg, Pa., the Diesel engine on the train developed trouble, the railroad said, and arrived at Harrisburg about 9 a. m. Sunday—about three hours late.

By that time, the connecting train which should have taken Guedel's Pullman on into Washington had left. The next Washington train didn't leave until Sunday afternoon. That left Guedel's car, No. 301, stranded.

"We went through this car," said H. L. Wiand of the railroad's public relations department, "and explained the situation to the dozen or so passengers and promised to take them on to Philadelphia and put them, free, on a connecting train to Washington."

"Everybody agreed except this gentleman—he said he'd bought a through ticket to Washington and he was going to stay on that car."

"So the 'Spirit of St. Louis' rolled on to New York with Guedel the lone passenger in Car 301, Bedroom D."

"In New York we promised to give him a drawing room on a train leaving for Washington at 12:35 p. m. Sunday," said Wiand, "but he declined."

"To stop the argument, and because the car had to be transferred to Washington anyway, we left him aboard and attached it to the 12:35 p. m. train south."

Guedel reached Washington Sunday afternoon at 4:30 p. m.

"I just wasn't in the mood to get off the train in Philly," Guedel said today. "I just tried it on for size and got away with it. Me and the porter rode that car down."

Said one Pennsylvania Railroad employee: "That was a very forceful man."

Wanger Declares Prisons Underworld 'West Points'

ST. PAUL, Minn., June 21 (AP)—Movie producer Walter Wanger this week said most prisons in this country are the "West Points of the underworld."

He expressed the view in a speech prepared for delivery at a conference of the National Probation and Parole Assn.

Many of today's prisons turn out "career hoodlums, the permanent citizens and leaders of the criminal world," Wanger added.

The Hollywood producer said America's prison problem is a threat to the entire social system of this country. He charged that prisons throughout the nation are riddled by politics and corruption.

Wanger said a "malignant cancer" of crime and corruption is costing the country billions of dollars. This "cancer," he said, "could be cured, he said, by 'an age of spiritualism,' bolstered by advances in research and production techniques."

"We have made great strides in material and scientific fields," Wanger added, "but we have become hypocrites in the field of social studies."

He urged "big business" to make the "dignity of man" its "big business." Wanger said the

Child Of Tragedy To Get Millions

NEW YORK, June 21 (AP)—A 12-year-old child of tragedy is about to come into full possession of an estate of nearly eight million dollars.

He is Wayne William Lonergan, whose father murdered his mother in 1943—before the child was old enough to remember either of them. The father, Wayne Lonergan, is serving 35 years to life in prison.

The boy is the only living heir of a wealthy brewer, Max E. Bernheimer, who was his grandfather. The brewer died in 1913 and his widow last year.

The gross estate now due young Lonergan, is $7,809,918. An accounting field today in Surrogate's Court showed he already has received $3,059,198. He gets the rest when the accounting is approved.

Young Lonergan now lives with his maternal grandmother, who has been his guardian since shortly after his father was imprisoned. The father was convicted of second-degree murder of his beautiful wife, Patricia, after a sensational trial in 1943.

Seized Woman's Release Ordered

BRATTLEBORO, Vt., June 21 (AP)—Federal Judge Ernest W. Gibson yesterday ordered the immediate release of Mrs. Lucille Miller, 45, of Bethel, from a mental hospital in Washington, D. C.

Mrs. Miller has been confined there since she was seized at her home May 3. State troopers bombed the house with tear gas to bring about her surrender and that of her husband.

Judge Gibson acted on a petition of U. S. District Atty. Louis G. Whitcomb who said the hospital had found Mrs. Miller competent to consult with an attorney. She is under indictment for allegedly attempting to influence young men against Selective Service.

Manuel Miller, the woman's husband, is under indictment on a charge of resisting a U. S. marshal who came to take Mrs. Miller into custody. He held authorities at bay with a rifle for 12 hours until the tear gas barrage.

Maine has probably ten times as many deer as it did when the first settlers arrived. Fifteen years ago the annual deer kill was only about 22,000 in contrast to 37,000 in 1954.

Churchill Accepts Gift Of Lion Cub

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., June 21 (AP)—A lion cub will soon be on its way to Sir Winston Churchill as a successor to his late pet lion, Rota.

The International Assn. of Lions Clubs announced today it had offered Churchill the cub as a gift and he had accepted.

Rota was destroyed in London Saturday at the age of 17 to spare him further suffering from the infirmities of old age.

A spokesman for the service club group said a cable was received from Churchill the same day. It said: "It would give me much pleasure to accept gift you so kindly propose."

The Park Forest, Ill., Lions Club made the offer to Churchill on behalf of the international association.

Firemen Save Day

KINGSTON, N. Y., June 21 (AP)—Fire broke out in a load of lumber which Ralph Dunn, of Montgomery, N. Y., was trucking along the New York State Thruway.

He and a passing motorist were battling the flames when over the hill came the radio car of a fire company bound for a convention.

Back flashed a message and up came a passle of firemen, hoses at the ready. They squirted the fire out and went on their way.

STAR CHIEF CUSTOM CATALINA

...at a cost you can easily afford!

What is a fine car? What sets a certain select few apart in the world's esteem . . . wins them first place in most people's desire?

First and foremost, a fine car is a style-setter—a real advance in smart appearance outside and in.

Naturally, it's also a basic forward step engineering-wise. At the wheel you should know that you've reached the peak of performance—experienced an all-new kind of flashing power.

There's more, of course. It must be enviable for sheer luxurious comfort, for restful roadability, for thought-quick handling ease.

And it must, above all, be wholly dependable, for only a trustworthy car can be called "fine."

If this meets your definition of a fine car and you want it, there's nothing in your way. For this description is right off the Pontiac score sheet—a short but perfect picture of this big, powerful, future-fashioned car. And Pontiac's prices fit comfortably into anybody's new-car buying plans!

Come in for the rest of the reasons why this is the fastest-selling Pontiac in history—such as the inside story of America's most modern and efficient automotive power plant, the sensational Strato-Streak V-8. And get the trade-in appraisal this great success permits. We're sure we can prove that now's your time to move into the fine-car class!

Man Who Can't Read Paid Another To Take Auto Test

BALTIMORE, June 21 (AP)—The Felder took the driving part of appearance in court of a licensed motorist who couldn't read had a motor vehicles department official casting a critical eye today at Maryland's method of conducting driving tests.

The defendant was Paul Felder, 23, Negro, arrested for an illegal turn in the face of a "No Left Turn" sign he couldn't read.

Felder told Magistrate S. Robert Levinson he paid $8 to a man in the hall of the Department of Motor Vehicles to take the written examination and the eye test for him.

Felder said the man approached him with the proposition, apparently after he noticed Felder's bewilderment over the forms he was given to fill out.

Edward Lyden, chief investigator for the Department of Motor Vehicles, said it might be necessary to set up a fingerprint system at each examination point to insure that the same man passed all of the tests.

Magistrate Levinson offered to postpone the case if there was any hope a full investigation would lead to the arrest of the man who took the $8 bribe.

Lyden refused the offer since Felder said he could not identify the man. The incident occurred in April of 1954.

Magistrate Levinson told Felder he had no sympathy for people who try to get licenses to which they are not entitled, and sentenced him to 30 days.

BALTIMORE, June 21 (AP)—Two workmen were injured, not seriously, and three others jumped clear today when the dirt walls of an excavation in South Baltimore caved in.

SRC Opens Bids For New Stretch Of U.S. Route 40

BALTIMORE, June 21 (AP)—The State Roads Commission today opened bids for the top surface on the 13-mile section of the new dual highway on U. S. 40 from Ridgeville to the Monocacy River Bridge, just east of Frederick.

Contractors were permitted to bid on two separate portions of the 13-mile strip or on both sections for the entire job. Contracts will be awarded later.

Low bidder on the overall job was the American Asphalt Products Co. of Washington, D. C., with a figure of $814,920. There were five bidders in all. The highest bid was $1,029,689.50. Second lowest was $919,202.50.

Low bidders on one of the two divisions of the job was E. D. Plummer & Son, Chambersburg, Pa., who figured the 5.243-mile project from Route 75 at New Market west to the Monocacy River at $506,496. It was the only bid submitted.

George B. Fox and Co., Baltimore, bid $597,849, lowest of two bids, for surfacing the 7.046-mile strip from a point near Howard County line west to Route 75 at New Market.

The section of the road on which bids were taken was built by the so called "stage construction process." The main part of the construction work, and the base courses of the asphalt paving were laid in the summer of 1954 and the road was opened to traffic last October.

The idea was to permit the base courses to settle before putting on the final asphalt riding surface.

However, sharp freezes and alternating thaws last winter caused "frost boils" under the base courses resulting in many holes and rough spots.

The strip was closed for most of February and into March. After the weather moderated, the dual lanes were opened to traffic again, but the riding surface was rough and bumpy.

Presbyterian Synod Plans Building Fund

FREDERICK, Md., June 21 (AP)—Plans for a $250,000 building fund campaign by Presbyterian churches in the New Castle Presbytery were outlined today at the 100th annual synod of Baltimore presbyteries.

The synod opened a four-day meeting at Hood College today. About 500 delegates were registered. The Baltimore synod is composed of the presbyteries of Baltimore, New Castle (Delaware) and the Maryland Eastern Shore and Washington and represents 175 congregations with more than 65,000 members.

After hearing an inspirational address by the Rev. Elam Davies of Bethel, Pa., the delegates turned to a discussion of a church program for 1956. Similar discussions will be held every afternoon during the meeting.

Fairchild Awarded Contract For C-123Bs

HAGERSTOWN, Md., June 21 (AP)—Fairchild Aircraft Division, which will deliver its first fully operational C-123B assault transport to the Air Force next Monday, has been awarded a contract to build more.

General Manager W. L. Landers said the contract calls for 73 C-123Bs. It brings to nearly 240 the number of assault transports scheduled for production at the Hagerstown plant.

Man Backs Truck, Strikes, Kills Son

UNION BRIDGE, Md., June 21 (AP)—Byron Lowman, 3-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Lowman, was killed today when struck by a truck being backed by his father.

Dr. James T. Marsh, Carroll County medical examiner, said the child died of a fractured skull.

He said the boy, his father and several other men were in the barn of the Lowman place, between here and Linwood, unloading grain. It became necessary to move the truck, Dr. Marsh said. The father said his son was in front of the truck when he got in to move it, but somehow the youngster ran behind the truck and was struck when it backed up.

State Farmers Gathering Crops

COLLEGE PARK, Md., June 21 (AP)—Farmers in the Maryland and Delaware area are beginning to reap the benefits of long months of planting, cultivating and insect fighting.

The Maryland-Delaware Crop Reporting Service said the harvest of cucumbers is expected to start this week. A heavy harvest of snap beans already has been gathered on the lower Eastern Shore and the harvesting of cabbage is under way in increasing volume.

In its weekly survey of the farm scene, the report also said nearly 30 per cent of the barley crop has been harvested in Delaware, the Maryland harvest about 20 per cent complete. About 15 per cent of the winter oat crop has been cut in southern counties and oats are ready for cutting elsewhere.

In the rye fields, the grain is ripe, but only a few scattered fields have been harvested. The wheat crop shows signs of ripening, but is not ready for combining yet.

Otherwise, the weekly report indicated, the field, truck and fruit crops in the two-state area are doing very well.

Buck deer shed their antlers every year.

One Of Seven Stricken With Diphtheria Dies

CAMBRIDGE, Md., June 21 (AP)—Six-year-old Reuben Thompson, one of seven children of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lee Thompson to be stricken with diphtheria, died last night in Baltimore City Hospitals.

Dr. Lawrence Maryanov, the Negro family's physician, said today the last two of the Thompson children had become ill. However, Agnes, 7, and 3-year-old Hattie have only mild cases. So do Helen, 5, Willie, 8, and Robert, 9.

Still on the critical list at City

Hospitals today was 12-year-old Brannie.

Meanwhile, 57 persons living near the Thompson family at Secretary have been given anti-diphtheria shots. Dorchester County health officials say they have received no other reports of the disease in the lower section of the county.

Colleen Kreger Selects Attendants For Wedding

Is Honored At Prenuptial Showers

Miss Colleen Kreger, fiancée of William R. Kirk Jr., has selected Miss Mary Elizabeth Straw to be her maid of honor for their wedding June 26.

Other members of her bridal party are Miss Sue Harmon, Miss Annette Delamater, Baltimore, bridesmaids; and Linda Jean Dicken, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Dicken, flower girl. Robert Kirk will serve as his brother's best man, while John Graney, Westernport, and Harvey Kirk, Bowling Green, will be the ushers.

The double ring wedding ceremony will be solemnized at 3:30 p. m. in Kingsley Methodist Church, with Rev. J. B. Snyder officiating.

The bride-elect is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl D. Kreger, Bowling Green, and is a member of the faculty of Allegheny High School. Her fiancé is the son of Mrs. Blanche Kirk Warnick, Ambridge, Pa., and William R. Kirk Sr., Avirett Avenue. He was graduated in June from State Teachers College, Frostburg.

Mr. and Mrs. Kreger will entertain with a wedding reception honoring their daughter and her bridal party, in the church social hall, following the ceremony.

Numerous parties have been given in compliment to the bride-elect, including a personal shower by Miss Straw; and a miscellaneous shower by Mrs. Homer Dicken and Mrs. Emma Collins.

Miss Straw entertained at the home of her aunt, Mrs. Earl Chaney, Bellevue Street, carrying out the bridal motif in the decorations. A tiered cake centered the table and each guest received a miniature bride doll with satin streamer attached to a rosebud corsage.

The gifts were given in the form of a treasure hunt, with original poems to locate each.

Guests were Mrs. Lee Lacy, Miss Mary Davis, Miss Harmon, Mrs. William Straw, Miss Joyce Dick, Charles Straw and Mrs. Kreger.

Mrs. Dicken and Mrs. Collins were hostesses at their home, Valley Road. They arranged the shower gifts under a pink and white umbrella and combined the bridal theme with the shower motif in the table decorations. A bride's cake topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom centered the table, with white candles at either end. Miniature umbrellas were given as favors. Mrs. Kreger assisted in serving.

Others attending were Mrs. William Shea, Mrs. Homer Plummer, Mrs. Roy Robertson, Mrs. Harry McNabb, Mrs. Lee Fuller, Mrs. Amos Collins, Mrs. Elred Wentling, Mrs. Herman Turner, Mrs. Randolph Nee, Mrs. Arch Fisher, Mrs. William Elliott, Faye Kreger and Karen Kreger.

A meeting of the Tri-State Chapter, Gold Star Mothers, scheduled for tonight, has been postponed.

NEWCOMERS CLUB HONORS OFFICERS — Installation of officers featured the final meeting until fall of the Newcomers Club, held in the form of a luncheon, Saturday at the Cumberland Country Club. Left to right are Mrs. Joseph Shaffer, recording secretary; Mrs. Carlton Brins-field, vice president; Mrs. Ben Chamberlin, retiring president; Mrs. Joseph A. Levens, president; Mrs. James E. Sunderland, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. Richard C. Gesser, treasurer. A family picnic will be held July 17, at Minke's Cottage Inn.

Blue Ribbon Winners May Enter National Contest

Crochet exhibits in the Cumberland Fair will be entered August 20 and 22, but none will be taken on Sunday this year, Miss Leona M. Phillips, women's department superintendent, said last evening.

All winners of blue ribbons at the fair for crocheted exhibits are eligible to enter the nationwide contest. The judges at the fair will award blue ribbons to the best pieces in each of the 16 classifications and a gold loving cup to the entry chosen "Best of the Fair."

These preliminary awards render the entries eligible for the final judging in New York City.

Classifications for entries are tablecloths, bedspreads, luncheon cloths, centerpieces, 14 inches and over; buffet and vanity sets, chair sets, dollies, under 14 inches; scarves and wall panels, pot holders and hot plate mats; place mats, other household accessories, edgings and insertions, fashion accessories; women over 65; men only; and teen-age girls. Contestants may enter as many classes as they wish, just so they fulfill the rules, Miss Phillips says.

Three championship pieces will be selected, the crocheters of which will be named Grand National champion, Men's champion, and Teen-Age Girl champion. The first one is to receive $500 cash award, the other two $100 each. All three will receive free trips to New York City. The teen-age girl will also receive a trip for one parent or chaperon. The balance of the national prize money will be awarded to first, second, third, fourth and honorable mentions in each of the 16 classifications.

The contest rules require a mercerized crochet cotton in a thread size of 100 or less be used. Mercerized cotton with a metallic strand also is eligible. Entries must be completed since January 1, 1955. A contestant may submit as many entries as fulfill all rules. The national judging in New York, will be based on workmanship, beauty of design and general appearance.

First prizes in the various classifications range from $150, through $100, $75, $50 and $25; second, $75, $50, $40, $25 and $15; third, $50, $25, $20, $10; fourth, $25, $10 and $10; and honorable mentions, 20 at $5, and $250 each; and 10 at $250, $2 and $1.

A reunion of the Klein Klan will be held June 26. It will be at Bethel Grove, Bethel, W. Va.

This is the first meeting of the families since the disbanding of the old Northcraft group. All descendants of Albert James Klein of Little Cacapon, W. Va., are urged to attend.

A basket picnic will be held from 1:30 until 2:30.

A business session with organization of the family and planning next year's reunion will follow the dinner.

Milton S. Klein, Hyattsville, is general chairman of arrangements.

The Navy Mothers Club will meet in the VFW home, Friday at 7:30.

Soroptimist, Venture Clubs Have Installation

Growth through education was the theme of the joint installation banquet of the Soroptimist International Cumberland, Keyser, and Tri-Towns and the Venture Club, held Saturday evening at the Ali Ghan Country Club, with the Tri-Towns Club hostess.

Officers of the Cumberland Soroptimist Club, chartered November 10, 1951 are Miss Olive Hurlburt, president; Mrs. Bessie Hanks, vice president; Mrs. Maxine Doak, recording secretary; Mrs. Mary Mathews, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Margaret Wonn, treasurer; Miss Zana Allison, three-year board member; Mrs. Blanche Ridgeway, two-year board member; Miss May Tomlinson, one-year board member; Mrs. Grace Harris, two-year regional representative and Mrs. Elizabeth Chaney, one-year regional representative.

Keyser Soroptimist Club, chartered August 19, 1953, installed Mrs. Ida Davidson, president; Miss Madalyn Bazzie, vice president; Mrs. Wilma Robson, recording secretary; Mrs. Linda Ludwig, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Ada Lee Matlick, treasurer; Mrs. Christine Murray, three-year; Mrs. Mary Umstot, two-year; Mrs. Autumn Cole, one-year board members; Mrs. Hazel Stanley, two-year; Mrs. Hope Wenner, one-year, regional representatives.

Also chartered August 19, 1953, Tri-Towns Soroptimist Club inducted Mrs. Nellie Dowling, president; Mrs. Naomi Flanagan, vice president; Miss Lois Bell, recording secretary; Mrs. Pauline Whitman, corresponding secretary; Miss Ann B. Kelley, treasurer; Mrs. Thelma Wilson, three-year; Miss June Gerfin, two-year; Mrs. Margaret Maybury, one-year board members; Mrs. Edna Kimmel, two-year; and Mrs. Gladys Hamilton, one-year, regional representative.

Mrs. Margaret Schmidt, Williamsburg, Va., SAR governor, officiated at the installation.

Miss Rebecca Mauzy, extension chairman, American Council of Venture Clubs, SAR, installed officers of the Venture Club. They are Miss Phyllis Corbin, president; Miss Mary Frances McCabe, vice president; Miss Wilda Biggs, recording secretary; Miss Elizabeth Shimer, corresponding secretary; Miss Mary F. Greco, treasurer; Miss Margaret Devine and Miss Rose Amoroso, directors.

Horace P. Whitworth Jr. served as toastmaster and Dr. Lillian C. Compton, past president of State Teachers College, Frostburg, was guest speaker. Speaking on "Dividends from Education," she said the investment in education pays the best dividends. Earning and purchasing power tends to be geared to the amount of education. A democratic form of government, she declared, would be impossible with an illiterate people. Dr. Compton pointed out that the three main results of education are the effort that is put into it, the goal to be reached and the satisfaction which results from it.

The program included the group singing of "America the Beautiful," organ selections by James Small; the salute to the flag; invocation by Rev. W. G. Wilson Jr., rector of St. James Episcopal Church, Westernport; "Trees" and "Take Me in Your Arms," sung by Robert Joe Martin; and benediction by Rev. Jude R. Senieur, O.F.M. Cap., SS. Peter and Paul Monastery.

Blue and gold and blue and silver were used in the decorations, carrying out the club colors of the Soroptimist and Venture clubs. Over 100 attended. Dancing concluded the evening with music by Mrs. Edna Engle.

Banquet arrangements were under the direction of Mrs. Wilson, Mrs. Margaret Maybury, Mrs. Whitman, Mrs. Roberta Johnson and Miss Kelley.

A picnic supper and lawn social will be held by the Loyal Daughters Class of Kingsley Methodist Church tomorrow from 5 until 9 at the church, Williams Street.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Your elbows are showing — it's that time of the year again. Rough, ugly elbows can be hidden in the winter, but come summer, you would look strange in long sleeves — not to mention how much you would suffer from coverage.

Too many women neglect the elbows (a barometer of age) thinking they can be kept out of sight. Others just ignore them on the theory dimpled elbows belong only to the young. Both theories are foolish.

Elbows respond so quickly to a little attention. There is no excuse for allowing withered, tough skin to gather there. Everytime you use a rich lubricating cream on the face or hands, instead of wiping it off on tissue, rub the excess into the elbows. Here's a trick cross the arms and do both elbows at the same time. Rotate the skin under your fingers — don't rub. This all takes just a few minutes and pays off so well. Why should your elbows look older than the rest of your skin?

When you take your daily bath before retiring, scrub your elbows thoroughly with your bath brush. For further smoothing down take a pumice stone, wet it slightly and apply it in a circular motion to the elbows. This will improve the circulation and remove any dead skin. After drying with a towel (be sure they're dry, as dampness invites chapping and discomfort), cream your elbows to keep them smooth.

Even in one week of concentrated elbow care, you will see and feel a big improvement. Take a good look in your bathroom mirror periodically — you'll see a world of difference.

Physicist Sees Atom Making War Obsolete

COLOGNE, Germany, June 21.—Dr. Arthur H. Compton said recently military development of atomic energy "may already have made major war obsolete."

In a lecture on the future of atomic power, the Nobel Prize-winning St. Louis, Mo., physicist said:

"It was our fate that the energy of the atom should first become available in wartime. Its immediate application was thus toward bringing to a quick close a disastrous war. There is reason to believe that the continued development of atomic energy for military purposes may already have made a major war obsolete."

"However this may be, the way is now open for developing the humane uses of the atom's energy. We are now beginning to realize the hope of two generations of men of science."

The neutrons and tracer chemicals produced by the fission reactor give scientists a research tool whose "usefulness is comparable with that of the microscope," he said.

"It is toward power from the atom, however, that a practical-minded world is hungrily looking," he said.

"... It will take time and further development for uranium

IN THE DAYS OF DAVY CROCKETT

When Travis got to be about soldier-age it seemed there'd be no more wars. England had learned to let the United States alone, the Barbary pirates had turned polite and the Indians no longer walked the warpath. Buck, however, kept in shape—just in case.

Being a powerful speaker like Davy Crockett, Buck Travis became a lawyer. When he was only 20 he was already pleading cases in court. After he'd make a special good case older men would predict: That boy'll make a great politician. They didn't know Travis!

Like Davy Crockett and Jim Bowie before him, Travis had a hankering to visit row, new country. What lay beyond the western sun? Buck decided to find out. So he bundled up his law books, packed his kit bag, told his friends so-long, and headed for Texas.

Told By AN OLD SCOUT

Travis came to a town name of Anahuac, liked its looks and decided to settle. He put up his sign and opened for business as a lawyer. At first, some of the rougher citizens thought to make sport of him for a dude. They soon found out his red hair was real!

NEXT—Buck Travis becomes a leader against Mexican tyranny.

Many Non-Red Newsmen Attracted To Soviet Union

power to compete economically with that from coal in large electrical power stations. Engineers working in their field are, however, hopeful. Within 20 years, so typical American industrial thinking now goes, a substantial part of our total electric power will be using uranium fuel.

He spoke at a U. S. sponsored atoms for peace exhibition at the Cologne fairgrounds.

MOSCOW, June 21 (P)—The Soviet Union is being visited by the largest number of non-Communist newsmen since the end of World War II, except for such special occasions as the foreign ministers conferences of 1945 and 1947.

The present total of about 30 will be boosted in a few days to more than 40 with arrival of a group of Canadian newspaper and radio women.

In addition, Moscow and other parts of the U.S.S.R. virtually are crawling with foreign cultural and trade union delegations from both the East and West. You meet them on almost every street corner in downtown Moscow and in almost every hotel. This number will increase as the summer advances and scheduled big international sports events get under way.

The permanent news corps of five U.S. correspondents, two Britons, two Frenchmen and one Italian has been boosted this past week by the arrival of five additional American reporters on temporary visas. At least three of them came as the result of a promise at Belgrade by Communist party boss Nikita S. Khrushchev to grant entry to Russia.

There also is a big squad of Indian correspondents touring the Soviet Union the past two weeks with Indian Prime Minister Nehru. A group of West German correspondents also is touring the interior.

The Indians and the West Germans have been getting special favors from their hosts. They are able to telephone dispatches without submitting their copy to censorship and they are visiting many farms and factories and meeting some officials. Resident correspondents have been unable to cover similar ground despite numerous requests.

An obvious political angle is involved here, as the Soviet government is host to Nehru and has invited West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer to Moscow for talks.

Some of the recent American arrivals are also phoning their dispatches directly from their hotel rooms, however, and a National Broadcasting Co. reporter is making direct telephoned broadcasts for recording in New York.

But for the resident Western reporters the old rules of censorship and submission of copy at the central telegraph office still hold. They still can't place any news telephone calls from their own offices.

2,000 Forms Of Rodents Found; Only Four Of Man

WASHINGTON, June 21 (P)—Man was put in his place today, above the monkeys from the Lesser Antilles but below the sloth of the West Indies.

For the Smithsonian Institution has catalogued all of us North American mammals. By counting every variety, it has found 3,622 known forms of mammals on this continent.

The list was made up by Gerritt S. Miller Jr., former curator of mammals for the U.S. National Museum, and Dr. Remington Kellogg, the museum's director.

They found that, numerically, the rodents win in a breeze, with around 2,000 different forms. There are about 400 kinds of carnivores—cats, dogs and other beasts of prey.

Bats? Nearly 300 species and varieties. Whales? Fifty kinds in North American waters.

And man? Miller and Kellogg found only four varieties of mankind among the 3,622 forms of mammals. And the way we're described scientifically doesn't make even these four sound very impressive.

"Homo sapiens sapiens. Type locality Upsala, Sweden. Range now almost cosmopolitan. (That's the Caucasian, of course, and that three-world description classifies us by genus, by species and by variety."

"Homo sapiens afer. Type locality, Africa. Introduced and widely established in North America. (Negro).

"Homo sapiens Americanus. Type locality, eastern North America. Range, North, Central and South America. (Indian).

"Homo sapiens asiaticus. Type locality, Asia. Now widely established in North America." (Oriental).

Well, fairly clear, except for this: How come homo sapiens sapiens winds up from Upsala, Sweden?

Neither Miller nor Kellogg was available, but Dr. David Johnson, a mammals expert for the Smithsonian, was glad to help.

He explained that the first classification job was done 1758 by the great Swedish botanist, Carl von Linne, better known by the Latin form of his name, Linnaeus. Linnaeus, a homo sapiens sapiens himself, was teaching at the University of Upsala, and so described the local product.

The list placed families of mammals on a scale based generally on the timing of their emergence.

Oakland Native New Head Of Republic Steel

CLEVELAND, June 21 (AP)—T.M. Girdler stepped aside today as the chief executive officer of Republic Steel Corp. and turned over that task to the firm's president, C.M. White.

Although Girdler retained his title of board chairman, it was understood that White now would be at the active helm of Republic's management.

Girdler, short in physical stature, bold and direct in speech and action, often crossed swords with unions during his career.

He was one of labor's strongest foes when the CIO was trying to organize steel workers in the so-called "little steel" strike in 1937. He was quoted at that time as saying, "before I sign a CIO contract, I'll go back on the farm and dig potatoes."

After a bloody Memorial Day fight in which 10 were killed in south Chicago and other struggles were noted in Cleveland, Youngstown and Warren, Ohio, Girdler contended:

"I was doing the best thing for my country when I fulfilled my obligation to the corporation."

John L. Lewis, then head of the CIO, blamed Girdler for the 10 deaths at South Chicago. Girdler blamed "CIO arrogance."

As head of Republic, one of Girdler's early theories was that steel was no longer a standard commodity like wheat or coal. He launched Republic on a program of specialization centering largely on uses of steel in and around the home, such as in kitchenware. He directed Republic's advertising directly to the housewife.

Justifying his ideas, Republic turned a $3,450,000 loss in 1934 into a net profit of $4,450,000 the following year. The firm never has faltered since that.

Girdler relinquished his duties as chief executive officer at a directors' meeting today, and White immediately took over.

The 78-year-old Girdler, a country doctor's son born in Clarke County, Ind., has been board chairman of Republic ever since several independent steel companies in Midwest states were being consolidated into the Republic Steel Corp. in 1929. From 1930 to 1937 he also served as Republic's president.

White, 64, became assistant vice president in charge of operations for Republic at its inception in 1930. He is a son of a lumberman and was born in Oakland in the Alleghenies of Western Maryland.

White, Republic's new leader, got his grammar school education in Hutton, Md., and later was graduated from the University of Maryland as a mechanical engineer.

He took his first steel job in 1913 as a machinist helper with the American Bridge Co. He later got a job as a millwright helper in a sintering plant owned by Jones & Laughlin Steel Corp., and in two years was plant superintendent.

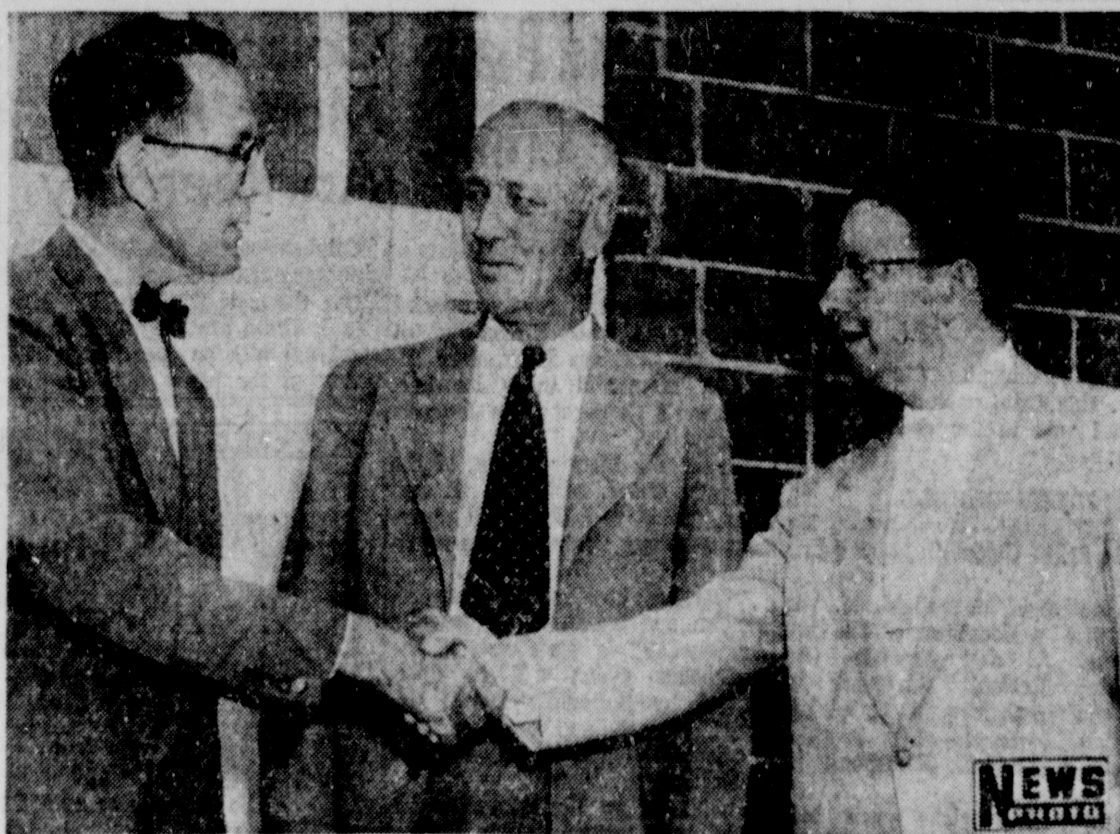

In 1927 he was appointed assistant general superintendent of the J. & L. Alquiappa Works and became its superintendent two years later.

White became Republic's president in 1945. He also is a director of the Cleveland Trust Co. and the Sherwin-Williams Paint Co.

Library Will Close

The Cumberland Free Public Library will close at noon today in observance of Cumberland Day at the Fairgo races.

Permanent front extends at least 675 feet into the ground on Cornwallis Island, 560 miles north of the Arctic Circle.

Church Inspected

Two members of an evaluation team from the Sears, Roebuck Foundation are shown with Rev. C. F. Frith (left), pastor of LaVale Baptist Church, as the team visited the church yesterday. The church, designated state winner in the Town and Country Development Program of the Middle Atlantic Area, is one of five finalists in the evaluation program. With Rev. Frith are (center) A. L. Jones, Philadelphia, eastern representative of the foundation, and S. A. Snyder, director of the Town and Country Development Program.

Farm Meetings To Be Held During Week

A number of farm meetings are scheduled this week, according to Joseph M. Steger, Allegany County farm agent.

Last night at 8 o'clock, 4-H Leaders and officers of the county met in Steger's office in the Court House to discuss summer activities.

On Thursday, Steger plans to attend the Western Shore County Agents and Assistants meeting planned in Ellicott City.

Individual reports by the county agents on the progress of the Brucellosis program will be made. Other business to be discussed will include:

Evaluation of 1955 Spray Recommendation for Insect Control; identification and chemical control of weeds and migratory bird control.

On Monday, June 27, at 8 p. m. the 4-H Dairy Calf Club will meet at the farm of Clarence Miller, located along the highway between Clarysville and Midland.

John Dietrich, dairy specialist from the University of Maryland, will attend the meeting and will demonstrate the showing of dairy animals.

Health regulations and summer activities of the club will also be discussed. During that afternoon, Steger added, Dietrich will visit dairy farmers of the area to confer on the management and preparation of grass silage.

Bible School Now In Second Week

"Marching On" is the theme of the Daily Vacation Bible School of First Presbyterian Church which is now in its second week.

Parents and friends are invited to the closing exercises of the school which will be held Friday morning at 10 o'clock in the fellowship room.

Handwork will be displayed in the respective departments and attendance certificates awarded. Refreshments will be served.

Completes Course At Aircraft Plant

Sgt. Richard E. Moore Sr., son of Mr. and Mrs. James P. Moore, 419 Ascension Street, recently completed a specialized aircraft course at the Fairchild Aircraft Corporation in Hagerstown.

Sgt. Moore entered the Air Force on January 3, 1947, and has been assigned to the 3345th Field Maintenance Squadron at Chanute Air Force Base in Rantoul, Ill.

Bennett Is Chairman

James Bennett was named chairman of Division No. 1 of Local 26, United Rubber Workers Union of America yesterday to replace James Stein who was elected president of the union.

Although the most familiar form of social structure is patrilineal—you reckon your descent from your father and he from his father etc.—many societies have a matrilineal descent, reckoned through the female line.

Maryland Plans Juvenile Crime Conference

Child crime will receive special attention at the University of Maryland, College Park, July 25-27, as Maryland holds its first Governor's Conference on Juvenile Delinquency.

Magistrate Morris Baron, of the Juvenile Court, and John H. Jeffries, probation officer, will represent Allegany County at the meetings.

"Working together for the prevention and treatment of juvenile delinquency" is the theme of the conference which will be highlighted by nationally known experts, leaders, and speakers, and a schedule of general sessions and workshops.

Emphasis on the necessity for broad community planning will be stressed at the general sessions, designed to give all those in Maryland interested in the problem of preventing and controlling delinquency an opportunity to hear experts on the subject.

Workers in specialized fields will participate in the workshops. Hosts for the affair will be the University of Maryland and the Maryland State Department of Public Welfare.

Sponsors include the State Departments of Education, Health, Hygiene, and Correction; the Division of Parole and Probation and the Maryland State Police.

Co-chairmen for the event are Thomas J. S. Waxter and Dr. Harold C. Hoffsommer.

UAW Opposes Industry-Wide Negotiations

DETROIT, June 21 (P)—Any attempt at industry-wide bargaining by the auto companies will be fought by the CIO United Auto Workers' union President Walter P. Reuther said today.

Reuther was commenting on a suggestion made 24 hours earlier by Henry Ford II that the motor-car firms join forces in future dealings with the big auto union.

"I don't think industry will accept it, and I know the UAW-CIO will not accept it," Reuther asserted.

"We are opposed to industry-wide bargaining. That's just a way to make small crises into big ones."

Ever since the auto industry was organized, the UAW had dealt with each company individually, attempting to use gains won from one as a wedge at the others.

General Motors has not commented on the Ford Motor Co. president's proposal of industry-wide bargaining, but reportedly is opposed to it. Ford said he believed Chrysler Corp. "might" be in favor of it.

Reuther made his remarks as he arrived at a hotel to speak at a meeting of the UAW's 300-man national General Motors conference.

These union representatives of some 350,000 GM workers around the country assembled to ratify the recently negotiated General Motors-UAW contract.

Rank-and-file members of the union's General Motors locals still must vote on the agreement.

The last of a wave of local strikes that began shortly before the settlement June 13 was ended today.

About 2,000 members of Local 174 at GM's Fisher Body plant in suburban Livonia voted to accept a management offer covering local issues.

Other strikes which had closed up to 44 GM plants at one time last week were settled earlier.

Nearly 20,000 employees of the company were idle at six plants today because of strike-caused part shortages.

GM said two Flint, Mich., plants—Buick final assembly and Fisher Body No. 1—will resume production tomorrow.

Other closed plants are expected to reopen soon now that the last of the strikes has been settled.

Two County Men Paroled By State

ANNAPOLIS, Md., June 21 (P)—The Department of Parole and Probation today released the names of 68 more persons recently released from Maryland penal institutions.

Among them were: Thomas Linn, not more than one year, assault with deadly weapon, Allegany County, last November.

Charles H. Smith, one year, contributing to delinquency of minor, Allegany County, last January.

In the past five years, Americans have bought more than two electrical appliances for each man, woman and child in the country.

WIFE PRESERVERS

Couple Will Mark 50th Anniversary

Celebrating the 50th wedding anniversary of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel T. Maphis, Mrs. Frank Smith and Guy Maphis will entertain with an open house, Saturday at the home, 514 Washington Street, from 5 until 8 o'clock.

The former Miss Alice Dortha Dyer, daughter of the late Edward and Matilda Dyer, McCauley, W. Va., became the bride of Mr. Maphis, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. George Maphis of Rio, W. Va., June 25, 1905. The ceremony was performed in Rio by Rev. Peter Miller, pastor of the Lutheran church there.

Mr. and Mrs. Maphis have three grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Social Chart

An old-time social will be held outside the Mt. Tabor Methodist Church Friday at 7:30, sponsored by the MYF. Refreshments will be for sale.

Mr. Sue Whitney has returned to her home, 135 Virginia Avenue, after being a patient in Memorial Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Shoenadel have returned to St. Petersburg, Fla., after visiting here.

Social Security Eligibility For Farmers Is Outlined

EDITOR'S NOTE:—This is the fourth in a series of articles prepared to help acquaint farmers and farm families with their rights and benefits under the Social Security program.

To be eligible for Social Security benefits now provided for farmers, farm laborers and farm families, the Social Security Administration emphasizes one important fact. "The farmer must be insured under the program."

Men To Receive Instructions On Voting Machines

Representatives of the Allegany County Board of Election Supervisors will go to Jamestown, N. Y. on July 18 to receive instructions in the operation of voting machines which have been ordered from the Automatic Voting Machine Corporation.

The men will be at the firm's Jamestown factory four days for instruction in handling the devices. William A. Wilson, board president, said Irvin Neat and C. William McDermott, the Republican and Democratic registrars respectively, Alvin Gentry, messenger, and the two custodians of the machines, Reatus Spiker and another man to be named by the Democrats, will make the trip.

Expenses of the men will be borne by the Automatic Voting Machine Corporation under terms of the contract by which the county purchased the voting machines.

It was also reported that the custodians for the voting machines, Spiker, and the Democrat to be named later, will not be placed on the payroll of the Election Board until after the voting machines arrive in this county sometime in December.

Edward P. Kaylor, clerk of the Election Board, yesterday appeared before the county commissioners for approval for certain work in the board offices at the Court House.

Clyde S. Kuhns, this city, was awarded a contract to replace damaged plaster on the walls of one room and give the ceiling and wall trim two coats of paint. He bid $128 for the work. J. E. Dennison, this city, bid $150.

The Maryland Electric Company, city, was awarded a contract to install three drop lights in an office for $85. Rudy's, Inc., 158 North Mechanic Street, was awarded the contract to lay asphalt tile in a room for $75. Both were low bidders.

Penn Avenue Plans Activities For Week

Miss JoAnn Taylor, director at Pennsylvania Avenue Playground, has announced the schedule of activities at the play area for the rest of this week.

Today's agenda calls for registration for the learn-to-swim program that begins for two weeks on Monday for children of the Penn Avenue section. Ball team tryouts will be held and the playground leaders will meet with the playground association.

Thursday there will be a picnic at Constitution Park with the children from Mapleside Playground. Friday at 7:30 p. m. a stuffed animal show will be held.

Miss Taylor reported 141 children registered at the playground Monday. The activities yesterday included wading, quiet games and a movie.

A talent search was held last week.

Two Youths Hurt In Road Accident

Two youths were admitted to Potomac Valley Hospital in Keyser Monday night with injuries sustained in an accident on Waxler Road, near Keyser.

Reported in good condition are Charles Cook, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cook, of RD 3, Keyser, and Harold Day, 8, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar O. Day, Dawson.

The boys were bruised about the body when the truck in which they were riding went off the highway and down a steep bank. William Lee Dixon, 42, driver of the truck, said he was forced to pull off the highway to allow another car to pass on the narrow road, when the wheel skidded and the truck rolled down the embankment. The truck was loaded with cross-ties.

The boys were in preparation for the intra-city playground talent contest next night.

Board To Hear Seven Appeals Tomorrow Night

Seven appeals from decisions of the city engineer in regard to building permits will be heard by the City Board of Zoning Appeals Thursday at 8 p. m. in the City Hall.

The city engineer is bound by the municipal zoning ordinance in making his decisions. Under certain circumstances, the board may issue a permit to those previously turned down for being in violation of the zoning restrictions.

The board will hear the following appeals:

Henry Miller, 115 Potomac Street, applied to occupy Lots 93, 94, 95 and 96 for used car parts and storage of non-ferrous metals. This business is situated in an industrial zoning district.

Harry F. Brant, 1300 Lexington Street, applied to build a 11-foot by 20-foot garage at the rear of his lot. The structure would be of frame construction with composition shingle roof. The premises are in a business zoning district.

James H. Hoffman, 25 Hawthorne Avenue, seeks to enclose a 10-foot by 28-foot one story front porch. It is located in a Residential B district.

Roy C. Hansrote, 609 Piedmont Avenue, applied to build a one-story brick dwelling on Massachusetts Avenue. The property is owned by Hansrote and is in a Residential B zoning district.

Carl H. Nave, 708 Lincoln Street, seeks permission to build a concrete block garage, on the rear of his lot. It is in a Residential B zoning district.

Miss Marie Williams and Mrs. James Amstutz of 301 Pulaski Street wish to occupy the front room of 301 Pulaski Street for a grocery store. It is in a Residential B zoning district.

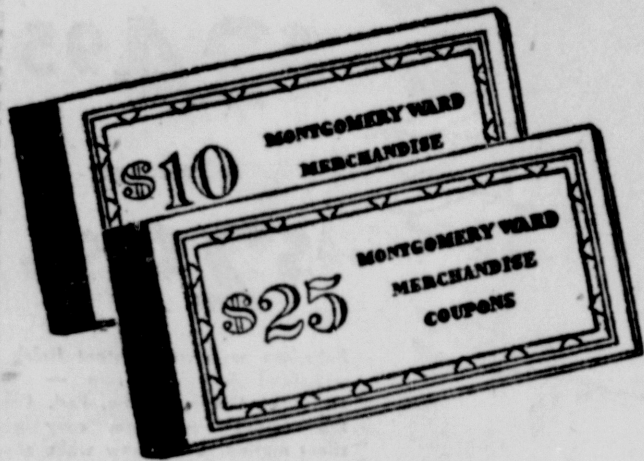

Charles H. Nevy, 712 Brookfield Avenue, wants to build a brick veneer dwelling on Lot 27 and half of lot 26 of Prince George Street. It would be in a Residential B zoning district.

Files Notice To Open Roads

The Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company has filed notice of intention of requesting the Allegany County Board of Commissioners to open certain roads on the new plant site at North Branch in connection with legal procedure to clear up any "cloud" on the firm's deed to the more than 600 acre tract.

William C. Walsh, local attorney, is handling the matter for the Pittsburgh company. He explained that old deeds list five roads which traverse the plant site and it is necessary to have these long unused rights of way eliminated to prevent any trouble in the future.

After the notice of the roads being officially open has been in effect 20 days then the Pittsburgh firm will request the county commissioners to declare them closed.

Walsh explained that the roads listed as crossing the plant site have not been used in many years, in fact, on one of them there are trees 10 inches in diameter. The county commissioners indicated some time ago that they were in agreement with the procedure in order to facilitate the process of giving the company clear deeds to the property in question.

County Men Take Examination Today

Examination for assessor in Allegany County will be taken by four men at the State Tax Commission office in Baltimore today.

They are David E. Kirk, of Barton, now transfer clerk for the Assessing Department; Albert W. Van Meter, 1308 Michigan Avenue, city; William P. Holmes, Frostburg, and Merwin R. Hast Jr., who lives near Union Grove.

A Hearty Welcome To The Firemen

The Maryland State Volunteer Firemen's Association, with hundreds of its members from all over the state, will convene here today for its annual convention.

To these men and their ladies we extend a hearty welcome.

Marylanders, whether they live in the country, hamlets or cities, owe a debt of gratitude to these men who risk their lives fearlessly and without pay to protect property from fire.

While Cumberland has a paid fire department, and a very good one, virtually all of the communities in Allegany County are protected in case of fire by the volunteer to whom firefighting, despite its dangers, has some sort of fascinating attraction.

Volunteer firemen do a good job. And they are not untrained. Many of them take their own time and some use their own money to attend training schools at the University of Maryland. When they return home they share their knowledge with their fellows.

Too often, the fireman, volunteer or paid, does not get the credit for the job he does for his community and his fellow-citizens. He is willing to risk his life in all kinds of weather and under any circumstances.

So we in Cumberland are fortunate this week to be able to extend a welcome to the state's volunteer firemen and perhaps repay in part the credit that is due them.

Their visit here coincides with the annual race meet at Fairgo and later in the week the crowd will be swelled by an influx of delegates to the state convention of the Loyal Order of Moose so that Cumberland literally will be jammed to the rafters.

With the streets already decorated for the firemen's convention, the city has taken on a festive appearance. A big time is ahead and Cumberland has a wonderful opportunity to show the hospitality for which it is noted throughout the state.

We hope our visitors enjoy their stay here in the Queen City of the Alleghenies, now observing the 200th anniversary of the founding of Fort Cumberland.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

They Never Had It So Good

Professor Richard Hofstadter of Columbia University is having a tough time translating himself into a conservative. Apparently the cult of liberalism is proving as unpopular in the 1950s as the cult of fellow-traveling proved to be in the late 1940s. Men who live by labels often discover that their thinking has run away from the labels, so the liberal calls himself a conservative, and Professor Hofstadter calls conservatives, "pseudo-conservatives," whatever that may mean. He tries to tell what it means in a long article in The American Scholar but gets into an interesting tangle. For instance, he makes this point:

"... After 20 years the New Deal liberals have quite unconsciously taken on the psychology of those who have entered into possession. Moreover, a large part of the New Deal public, the jobless, distracted and bewildered men of 1933, have in the course of the years found substantial places in society for themselves, have become home-owners, suburbanites and solid citizens. Many of them still keep the emotional commitments to the liberal dissent with which they grew up politically, but their social position is one of solid comfort. Among them the dominant tone has become one of satisfaction, even of a kind of conservatism..."

Is that bad?

The history of the United States has been one of protest and rectification, of a struggle for a higher standard of living, of a constant rise of individuals from one social group to another. We are not a static society. We are a competitive society. We do not expect the poor to remain dispossessed; we expect them to move forward not in a struggle for existence but in an adventure in freedom.

That has been our story since the first settlers began to move westward, from New England to New York and Ohio, from Virginia to Kentucky and Tennessee and then westward until they reached the Pacific, and southward until they reached the Rio Grande.

The protesters of one generation become the conservatives of another. Were William Jennings Bryan alive, he would find that some of his most fantastic economic and social concepts are conservative today. The socialism of Norman Thomas became the New Deal of Franklin D. Roosevelt, which is no longer progressive in the period of Walter Reuther.

It is because conservatives pull in one direction and the protesters in many opposite directions that we are not a static or a revolutionary society. The quarrels among conservatives and radicals produce not conformity but a dynamism that functions progressively as long as there is equality of opportunity on the economic side and a lust for the better life on the social side.

The doctrinaire liberal is often appalled by prosperity when according to his notions there should be failure; by growth when he believes the frontiers have disappeared; by the strength of the capitalist system when he believes that it should have failed by now. He just does not understand how it is that dumb clucks do manage to put things together and make them run. The answer is that they do. And they do it because they want to get more of the good things of life for themselves and their families.

So when Professor Hofstadter worries about the "punitive reaction" of those whom he calls pseudo-conservatives, he talks nonsense. There is no such thing. He may be worried about a general desire to kick all Communists and their friends in the teeth, but that has to do with another subject. It is a normal response to betrayal. It is a characteristic American dislike for the citizen who prefers another country to his own. It can all be read in Edward Everett Hale's "The Man Without A Country," which was written in another era and is wholly unrelated to current events. The sentiment of that book persists. The feeling is that those who hate America ought to go to some place which they do not hate.

There are those who would confuse anti-communism and anti-betrayal with anti-intellectualism and conformity. They assume that if they change the words, they change the facts. They assume for themselves a monopoly of intellectual disciplines which they do not possess to any greater degree than those whom they oppose. None of this really matters. What does matter is that the United States survives them all.

Atmosphere Of Hope For Peace Prevails At U. N.

By David Lawrence

SAN FRANCISCO—There is here an atmosphere of hope for the peace of the world. An opportunity to express that hope is the main reason why they are celebrating the 10th anniversary of the founding of the United Nations.

To say over and over again that the world wants peace is not a futile gesture, because moral force—which is the sum total of the currents of public opinion everywhere—does manage to penetrate the most difficult barriers.

When, therefore, the President of the United States stands before the representatives of 60 nations and articulates the moral code which the American people stand for, it is a distinct gain. Bearing in mind that Foreign Minister Molotov of the Soviet Union and the other envoys from the satellite states are here, it is thrilling to hear the President saying to them face to face the truths that the western world considers paramount as a basis for peace.

Pulled No Punches

"Justice, decency and liberty," says Mr. Eisenhower, are imbedded in the United Nations charter—if all nations would only observe them.

"The right to select in full freedom" the individuals who conduct government, no matter what its form, is the President's second concept.

"Free access to historical and current facts and information" as indispensable to the maintenance and operation of "a system of self-government" is the third point emphasized.

"No nation has a right to employ force aggressively against any other," proclaims the President as he carries further the theme that it is "the first responsibility of every nation to provide for its own defense" and that it has "the clear right to associate itself with other like-minded peoples for the promotion of their common security."

The President was naturally compelled to express his thoughts in implicit phrases. For at this gathering it would have been ill-advised and in bad taste to have done otherwise. But, reading the speech carefully, it will be observed that Mr. Eisenhower didn't really pull any punches. He reiterated the fundamentals of international morality for which the Western nations fought in the last war and which they still hold to be prerequisite to a firmly established peace.

Mr. Eisenhower has left it to the U. S. Secretary of State, John Foster Dulles, to make an explicit pronouncement on American foreign policy later in the week. But already those who may have doubts as to the wisdom of this celebration can be assured that the reaffirmation of basic ideals has in itself given a tone to the United Nations conference which must inevitably overflow into the other conference being held here concurrently at which arrangements are to be made with Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov for the meeting "at the summit" in Geneva next month. The only clue to

Baering Down On The News

By Arthur "Bugs" Baer

We don't figure the Democratic gossip bureau has been too tough about that squirrel on the White House putting green.

It might have been a pack rat and exchanged guesses for facts. Or one of those round-shouldered moles we have on our Connecticut lawns.

The Democrats have a better line on Ike than they did in 1950. Now, they're sure he is a Republican.

Only thing they have to worry about is whether or not Ike will run in 1956. Ike has stuck thousands of pins in war maps. But never one in a calendar.

We discount stories of smears 100 per cent and give the Democrats an extra five for neatness. The last four years has been as clean as an empty cage.

Some eager Democrats tried a delicate smear or two that suggested a dilettante muralist daubing a panorama on a thumb nail.

All political campaigns finance fact finding committees looking for hypothetical bodies in hidden orchards. They keep one ear to the ground so long a geranium grows out of the other. A candidate's life is as open as an all-night lunch-room.

There haven't been such scoured politics since the Big Bill Taft campaign. The worst they said about Big Bill is he was fat. The Wilson, Harding and Hoover contests were torchlight parades with sulphur flambeaux.

We congratulate the top Democrats on their Chesterfieldian restraint. Chesterfield wrote 5,000 letters to his son and never got an answer.

Words said in the heat of a campaign usually cook the dictionary.

But the percentage of signatures in old scratch's guest book is small in ratio to the people who are invited to go there.

That's true of the Republican committees too. You can overlook a lot of things from the top seat.

Oil-Gas Lobby Puts Heat On Mayors Across Country To Support Gas Bill

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — Operating strictly sub rosa, the powerful oil-gas lobby has put the heat on the nation's mayors to support the gas bill now before Congress which overrules the Supreme Court and bars any federal regulation of gas transmitted through interstate pipelines. Result of this lobbying is a battle of mayors that is echoing in city halls across the country.

In another sense, it's a fight between two Mayor Clarks — Philadelphia's Mayor Joseph Clark Jr., Democrat, fighting for the consumers, and Indianapolis' Mayor Alex Clark, Republican, fronting for the oil lobby.

The Harris bill which the oil lobby wants passed would cost the housewives higher gas bills estimated at around $400,000,000 annually.

That's why Mayor Clark of Philadelphia began rallying other big-city mayors against the bill. He lined up more than 50 mayors, representing 30,000,000 consumers, to protest to Congress.

Not to be outdone, the oil companies lined up the other Mayor Clark of Indianapolis, who began cranking out press releases in favor of the bill. He argued, in the name of free enterprise, that producers should be free to raise field prices. Finally he showed up in Washington, his pockets stuffed with letters and telegrams.

These messages came to him, Clark of Indianapolis claimed, as a "spontaneous" outpouring from city heads who sided with him.

"My stand has apparently attracted widespread attention," he told the Senate Commerce Committee. "As evidence of this, I have with me today very many telegrams and letters that I have received from mayors."

Secret Oil Strategy

Real truth, however, is that the messages were secretly solicited by the oil companies. Their game was given away by a teletyped statement from Mayor W. A. Hensley of Bartlesville, Okla. Across the bottom, this private note appeared: "Given to FLR over Phone 5-19-55 by J. W. Clark of Phillips Petroleum Co."

The Phillips official apparently got the mayor's message garbled, because, the way it came out, Hensley went on record as contending: "Producers and gatherers (sic) of gas must be freed of federal regulation if dangerous encroachment on our free enterprise system is to be preserved."

Presumably, this novel plea to "preserve" encroachment on free enterprise wasn't exactly what his honor the mayor of Bartlesville had in mind.

Even more revealing was a private letter to Indianapolis Mayor Clark from his fellow Hoosier, Mayor Robert Meyers of Fort Wayne, also a Republican.

Standard Oil Operates

"I have been informed by Mr. Hansel Smuts of the Standard Oil Company, South Bend, that you are testifying before the Senate Commerce Committee in favor of the bill to exempt producers of natural gas from federal regulation," wrote Meyers. "Once again I find myself opposed to one Clark and in favor of the other. Naturally, you know which one I am referring to as opposing..."

He was opposed, of course, to Mayor Clark of Philadelphia.

"Jack Scott and I missed you at Las Vegas," added the Fort Wayne mayor confidentially. "I even got back with my shirt on, though I did perhaps leave my tie and socks."

Among the mayors who strangely went along with the oil lobby were Arthur W. Walz of Wilmington, Del.; Carl Wee of Canton, Ohio; Arthur Meehan of Spokane, Wash.; Robert Morgan of Peoria, Ill.; and several other Hoosier mayors. The strange fact is that these mayors represent cities whose consumers will be hard hit by gas price increases.

The big oil boys also pressured the mayors who sided with the consumers. As a result, four big-city mayors reversed themselves after joining Philadelphia's Mayor Clark in the fight against the Supreme Court's decree.

The four who gave in to oil-lobby pressure are Mayors Paul Mitchum of Kansas City, Kan.; De Lesseps Morrison of New Orleans, La.; W. Lee Minglehoff of Savannah, Ga.; and Curtis Dixon of Tampa, Fla.

It will be interesting now to see whether Congress votes for the oil lobby or the consumers.

NOTE—A third Mayor Clark — L. C. Clark of Tulsa, Okla. — also got into the oil-gas battle. He started out on the industry's side, promising to line up mayors for the oil lobby. But at the mayors' conference in New York City, he ran into Pittsburgh's persuasive Mayor Dave Lawrence, the Tulsa Clark joined the Philadelphia Clark against the Indianapolis Clark.

Under The Dome

Joe McCarthy got caught in a peppery cross-fire after he delivered his Senate speech blasting Ike for agreeing to meet the Russians at Geneva. It was almost pathetic to see McCarthy jumped from three sides by fellow Republicans Knowland, Calif., Thyne, Minn., and Bender, Ohio. Joe's brow tensed, his hands shook, and he grasped the back of a chair to support himself when Knowland rose to deliver a surprise lecture defending Ike and Dulles. After Knowland, Thyne, and Bender got through, many newsmen in the tense Senate press gallery thought McCarthy was on the verge of a collapse. Ike advisers got into a backstage hassle over whether he should be evacuated from the White House by helicopter or automobile during last week's civil-defense test. The Secret Service insisted that Ike stay on the ground and leave town by car. They argued that a helicopter is too risky, particularly in bad weather. They won.

Probing Investigators

By Joseph Alsop

WASHINGTON

The cloud is still no bigger than a man's hand; but maybe Herbert Brownell, Scott McCleod, Lewis L. Strauss and a few other people had better start thinking about what happened to the prophets of Baal when Elijah's little cloud grew to be a big one.

The cloud in question is the unanimous report by the Senate Committee on Government Operations of a resolution calling for the appointment of a high level commission to revive the entire federal security program.

Senate Majority Leader Lyndon Johnson and House Speaker Sam Rayburn mean to pass the resolution through their respective bodies. Rayburn and Johnson have a highly developed knack of getting what they want. Hence the resolution has an excellent chance of becoming law before the end of the session.

Significant Circumstances

Meanwhile, the circumstances in which this resolution to investigate the investigators was reported to the Senate are highly significant in themselves. In the novel style of the Lyndon Johnson democracy, it was co-sponsored by a left-right team. Senators Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota and John Stennis of Mississippi.

It was then studied at prolonged hearings, in the course of which Attorney General Brownell exhibited a marked lack of enthusiasm for the proposed inquiry into his own security practices. The Republican members of the subcommittee studying the resolution, Senators Norris Cotton of New Hampshire, Thomas E. Martin of Iowa and Margaret Chase Smith of Maine, were at first inclined to be suspicious of a measure that looked partisan. But in the end they enthusiastically joined in presenting the resolution to the full Committee on Government Operations.

The two senior Republican members of the Government Operations Committee are Senators Joseph R. McCarthy of Wisconsin and Karl Mundt of South Dakota. No one can suspect either Mundt or McCarthy of any desire for reform in federal security procedures. What they want, if anything, is a further debasement.

Yet even McCarthy and Mundt did not record their hostility when the full committee reported the resolution to the Senate.

Increasing Doubts

The signs are clear, then, that there are increasing doubts about the federal security program. The doubts are no longer confined to leftwingers, intellectuals and obstinately old-fashioned persons who cannot quite approve the back-door abrogation of the Bill of Rights. Grave concern is also beginning to be felt by such good, horny-handed, orthodox, corn state Republicans as Senator Martin.

This shift of opinion was bound to come, sooner or later. Essentially, the existing security program embodies a national reaction to the case of Alger Hiss. It was a proper and natural reaction. But the result of the reaction, the security program itself, is neither proper nor natural.

It effectively deprives millions of American citizens of the ancient protections of our Constitution. It has worked horrifying injustices. It has bred among us such novel phenomena as hired informers, officially encouraged poison-pen-letter writers and federal flatfeet who ask people whether their neighbors' garbage includes an excessive allowance of bottles. As presently constituted and administered, in fact, the federal security program must keep the founders of this Republic turning in their graves like so many teetotums.

The Oppenheimer case, the John Davies case and a few other episodes have already disturbed a great many people. But one can predict with confidence that this security program will eventually produce a sort of Hiss-case-in-reverse — a demonstration of injustices and malpractice so final and so dramatic that it will convulse the entire country with strong indignation and generate an irresistible demand for reform. Any one familiar with the program can already detect the stench of such cases coming up, so to speak, through the floor boards.

Success Open To Question

Whether the high level commission proposed by the Humphrey-Stennis resolution will really do the job, may perhaps be open to question. It is to be composed of three groups of four members, chosen by the President, the vice president and the speaker. The congressional appointees should be well-balanced, but Attorney General Brownell, who wants no serious inquiry, has a chance to pack the commission through the presidential appointees.

He will make the same mistake if he does so, however, as President Truman made when he called the Hiss case a red herring. Already, the peculiarities of the security program are being somewhat fumblingly investigated by the Post Office and Civil Service Committee of the Senate; and a subcommittee of the Senate Judiciary Committee headed by Sen. Thomas Hennings of Missouri is also starting a more promising investigation. Sooner or later, the break will come and the storm of indignation will follow, unless the administration is wise enough to forestall trouble by preparing for careful reform.

Failing to find any loot, Canadian burglars left a note signing themselves with the names of three comic strip characters. Their attempt at humor was a flop, too.

Queen Elizabeth rides around in a black limousine. In these days of two-toned pastel jobs that gives

Gaining Weight Can Be As Big A Job As Losing It

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

A man or woman with the most attractive figure usually is of average or normal weight. The modern young athlete in top form is slightly below the average. Spareness characterized the knights of old and the Roman gladiators, while the Spartans considered a lean body of outstanding value.

Extremes in weight are unattractive. In this respect the looks of a fatty are just as displeasing as are those of a person who is thin as a lath. The Jack Spratt type of build rarely typifies endurance and well being; it fails to provide sufficient reserve. Few thin individuals possess extraordinary strength.

Many underweights resemble their parents, not only in features but in form, disposition, and mental powers. Marked emaciation usually goes with irritability, nervousness, excessive sweating, and rapid fatigability. While certain glandular conditions rarely enter the picture, a careful check may demonstrate that the output from these depots is inadequate.

Gaining weight may be just as difficult as losing it. Most physicians tackle the problem by going over the heart, lungs, kidneys, and all vital organs to find out if the individual is healthy. Attention is then directed toward the main issue, food.

A large appetite seldom is encountered in the thin although it exists when only a fraction of what is consumed is absorbed by the body. The diet must be well balanced and contain all the necessary elements, vitamins, and minerals. Calculated on the basis of weight and height, the menus may be fixed at 10 to 15 per cent over and above what the body actually demands.

If the man or woman is never hungry, small meals every two or three hours is the answer plus generous amounts of vitamin B complex. The quantity at each feeding often does not exceed four to five ounces. Nevertheless, starting at breakfast time and continuing until 10 p. m., the total will provide all essential nutrient.

If milk is distasteful, numerous modifications may be tried such as peptonized milk, soft curd, buttermilk, eggnog, cottage cheese, or custard. Frequently apparent food prejudices are traced to allergy and the victim may be reminded of an unpleasant experience with some food. Instinctively, that particular dish will be shunned.

Gradually, however, the total caloric intake will be increased until the patient is taking 25 per cent more than he needs. Weight increase will be equally gradual. Along with an adequate diet, thin people must make up their minds to stop fussing and take the world as it is.

You are still in the acne age despite your motherhood. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for leaflet on acne.

SUGAR AFTER EATING

The doctor at a summer resort gave a tourist a hasty checkup and said, "Give up red meats and raw fruits. They're awful for you." Next day the tourist felt worse and rushed to the same doctor who didn't recognize him. This time the doc advised, "What you need is more red meat and raw fruits."

"But, doctor," protested the tourist, "you told me just the opposite yesterday."

"So what?" said the medic. "You'd be amazed how science has progressed in the past 24 hours!"

Record Enrollment Indicated At State Teachers College

135 Freshmen Are Registered For September

Increase Attributed To New Facilities At Frostburg School

FROSTBURG — The fifty-fourth year at State Teachers College at Frostburg will open Tuesday, September 6, with resident Freshmen arriving and day Freshmen entering the following day.

Freshmen will take part in an orientation program until Wednesday, September 14, when classes will begin. President and Mrs. Hardesty will entertain the Freshmen at their home on Wednesday afternoon, September 7.

The class now numbers 135 which is more than twice the number received at this time last year.

The increased interest may be attributed to the added facilities of the past few years—a new library and administration building, new building for physical education, music and drama, and an auditorium. Two new residence halls are now under construction. Anticipated construction calls for a dining hall and student union building and a laboratory school. Landscaping the campus and building tennis courts, hockey field, and soft ball diamonds are a part of the plans.

With a small Senior Class of 57 graduating and a large Freshman Class enrolling, the College in Western Maryland will likely reach an all-time high of 600 students.

The applications to date by high schools follow:

Allegany — William N. Cessna, Norma J. Cross, Amelia A. Deihl, William E. Garton, Donald C. Gilum, Robert L. Grimes, Bernard K. Gross, Sabra A. Hast, George W. Long, Paul M. Marriott Jr., Kenneth B. ## School Planning Division Being Eliminated

Marland Outlines W.Va. Budget Cut

CHARLESTON, W. Va., June 21 (AP)—The Division of School Planning is being eliminated to bring the Department of Education within the limits of its reduced budget for the fiscal year starting July 1.

This was disclosed by Gov. William C. Marland at his weekly news conference today. A news release issued by the governor said the step would mean dismissal of the division's two employees, Director D. F. Cronin and Mrs. Aulene Holmes, secretary.

Marland explained the step is a result of a reduction of $6,930, as compared with the current year, in the amount appropriated by the Legislature for salaries in the Department of Education.

The department also must curtail printing and travel expenses and somewhat reduce its parttime help. The appropriation item for current expenses, chiefly printing and travel, was cut $8,852.

The governor spoke at length during his conference on the project of "selling" West Virginia as a plant site and disclosed personal plans for selling missions around the nation.

Newsman's questions on political rumors reached the governor's ears, too.

On the political front, Marland flatly denied, in answer to a question, that former Gov. Clarence W. Meadows is being considered as a successor to Tax Commissioner Milton J. Ferguson.

Ferguson has indicated a desire to return to his private law practice at Wayne. He has stayed on at Marland's request, pending selection of a successor.

Marland also denied that James Donohoe of Huntington is in line to succeed Keith Griffith as road Commissioner. Donohoe, who is president of the Cabell County Court, was denied confirmation by the State Senate in March after Marland had appointed him to the State Turnpike Commission.

Although not officially announced, it is generally believed that Griffith will be replaced on June 30, although his term has two more years to run.

Moorefield 4-H Delegate Leaves For Algeria Under Farm Youth Exchange Plan

MOOREFIELD—George M. Williams of Moorefield, Hardy County, left Quebec, Canada, June 18 via the S. S. Arosa Star en route to Algeria where he will live and work with farm families as an International Farm Youth Exchange (IFYE) delegate. He is scheduled to return to the United States in November. This announcement was made yesterday by C. P. Dorsey, State 4-H Club Leader at West Virginia University.

Williams was one of a group of 20 IFYE delegates who left June 18 to visit rural families in nine countries. A total of 76 "Grass Roots Ambassadors" will leave the United States in four groups this month bound for 26 countries in Europe, the Near and Middle East, Latin America, and the Pacific. They represent 32 States.

The IFYE project, sponsored by the National 4-H Club Foundation and the Cooperative Extension Service of the U. S. Department of Agriculture and Land-Grant Colleges and Universities, is based on the idea that understanding is the foundation of peace. Under the program, selected rural youths from the United States participate in home, farm, and community activities in other countries for four to six months and youths from those countries come to live with American farm families. It is financed by contributions from 4-H clubs, rural and civic organizations, industries, individuals, and others interested in world understanding. No federal or state government funds are used in the exchanges. The program began in 1948 and 510 U. S. delegates and 497 foreign youths have participated. In 1955, exchanges with approximately 48 countries are planned.

Williams attended an orientation program in Washington, D. C., before leaving the United States. The program included discussions on subjects such as understanding people, world agriculture, trade, U. S. foreign policy, and the American way of life. He also visited the Ministry of Algeria.

Bright Crown, Ester Jack, On To Oregon Win Trophy Races

Miles Presents Bond To Small In Sixth Race

Double Of $95 High For Meet; Wagering $882 Ahead Of 1954

Manunda Stable's Bright Crown, a 4-year-old chestnut filly, trained by W. S. Small and ridden by Billy Clark, scored by two lengths over Street Scene to annex the major portion of the $1,000 purse in "The Baltimore Orioles," sixth and feature race on yesterday's card at Fairgo.

A savings bond offered by the major league club was presented to Trainer Small by Clarence W. Miles, president of the Orioles, who was accompanied to Cumberland by several other officials of the Baltimore team.

After being introduced by William V. Keegan, Cumberland police and fire commissioner, President Miles presented the bond then remarked: "I hope the Orioles will finish as strong next year as the horse did in this race."

Bright Crown returned $13.60 after stepping off the five panels in 55 seconds flat. The win was the second of the meeting for Billy Clark.

Betting Takes Plunge

A gathering of 4,500 patrons were present for the "Baltimore Orioles-Oakland Day" program but the wagering dropped $18,517 below the $170,396 bet on the corresponding day of a year ago. Yesterday's handle of $151,879 sent the six-day total up to $961,747 and that is only $882 better than the $960,865 wagered for the same period in 1954.

Before yesterday's card betting was up $19,399 over last year.

Two other trophy races marked the sixth day of the program. In the fifth, The Oakland, M. Clatterback's Ester Jack, piloted by Willie Clark, defeated Misternar and Ba-Sic over five furlongs in 55.4 seconds. Dr. E. I. Baumgartner, representing the Oakland (Md.) Town Council, presented a savings bond to Owner Clatterback.

In this race Clark rode his 16th winner of the meeting, which is six short of Carson Kirk's all-time mark of 22.

McCracken Is Injured

W. C. Greer's Soma Miss went down in the starting gate, fell on Apprentice Johnny McCracken, and the stewards ordered the 3-year-old filly scratched, resulting in a refund for the bettors. McCracken was given treatment at the Red Cross first aid building for cuts and bruises.

On To Oregon, a three-year-old filly, owned by Mrs. I. R. Drescher, paid a $12.40 bet in winning the seventh race under the guidance of Lamar Bauer, and her trainer, I. R. Drescher, was presented a savings bond by Mrs. Ward Hinebaugh, in behalf of Ward's Restaurant, of Oakland, Md. Dixie Rose took second money and Little Westown finished third.

Daily Double Highest

The best payoff of the day came in the second race when Mad Acres Farm's Connamasset, with Willie Herman aboard, whipped seven other four-year-olds and upward and returned $22.20 for $2. Connamasset, coupled with Mary's Birthday as the winning daily double combination, rewarded holders of 6-1 tickets with $95, the highest of the meeting.

Lamar Bauer and Willie Clark booted home two winners each during the afternoon on which only two of the eight top choices won. The percentage of favorites winning here in six days stands at 50 with 24 out of 48 registering. Bettors' choices that scored were Mary's Birthday ($3.60) in the opener and Gun Maker ($3.80) in the fourth.

Other winners included Top Doris ($8.20) in the third, and Miss Foray ($6.60) in the eighth.

Today Cumberland Day

Today is Cumberland Day at Fairgo and among the guests of the Cumberland Fair Association will be J. Millard Tawes, comptroller of the Maryland Treasury. Mayor Roy W. Eves will present a trophy to the owner of the winning horse in the 6th race, the "Cumberland Purse."

Null To Coach VMI Cage Team

LEXINGTON, Va., June 21 (AP)—Jackie Null, former star athlete at the University of Richmond, tonight was named head basketball and baseball coach at Virginia Military Institute.

The announcement of Null's appointment was made by Col. M.P. Echols, VMI's athletic director. Null succeeds Charles (Chuck) Noe, who resigned several days ago to become head basketball mentor at Virginia Tech.

Echols said Null also would serve as an assistant on the Keydets' football staff. Null will come to Lexington to take over his new chores July 1.

Midland And Cumberland Cop Junior Legion League Tilts

Jesse Markley And Wilkinson Chalk Up Wins

Farrady Loses Here, 7-3; Midland Tops Grantsville, 4-1

Fort Cumberland Post's defending champions defeated Farrady Post of Frostburg, 7-3, at Fort Hill Field and Midland Post took the measure of Grantsville Post of Garrett County, 4-1, at Midland, as the campaign got under way in the Mountain District American Legion Junior Baseball League.

Donnie Wilkinson, Bruce High School pitching ace, hurled Midland to its initial victory, scattering seven hits and whiffing nine batters.

Bobby Munden started Midland off on the right foot by blasting a homer as leadoff man in the first frame. He and Thompson shared four of Midland's eight hits. Mazer topped the Grantsville swatsmiths with three hits and Knotts had two to his credit.

Bender, who relieved Beachy in the first inning, twirled a nice article of relief ball, yielding six hits while his strikeout victims totaled nine.

Jesse Markley's stellar relief pitching highlighted Cumberland's victory over Frostburg.

The Fort Hill High School ace relieved Lefty Don Pave in the fifth inning and stopped Farrady in its tracks by fanning six of the ten batters who faced him in the last 2½ innings. The win went to Markley while Lefty Wayne Fleegle was charged with the loss.

Ronnie Lewis with a triple and single and Ed McKenney with a two-bagger and single accounted for four of Fort Cumberland's seven safeties. Fleegle was credited with two of the five hits made by the Frostburg team. Boxes:

County Teams Meet

The Potomac Valley Old Germans will play the Mt. Savage K. of C. in a County Softball League game today at 6:15 o'clock at Triple Lakes.

BLANKET FINISH MARKS 4th AT FAIRGO — One of the most thrilling races of the current meeting at Fairgo took place yesterday in the fourth event when four horses came thundering home in a blanket finish. Willie Clark, the meet's top winner, showed real horsemanship in finishing first with Gun Maker (3) which had run 8th for the first mile. Miss Judex (5), L. Bauer up, was second; Hurry Beacon (8), J. McCracken riding, was third and Mr. Monica (1) with Willie Herman atop, was fourth in the 6½ furlongs affair. The picture was taken by the Fitzpatrick Photographic Service.

Local Marble King In Fourth Place

Winning seven of 15 games for the second straight day, Gary Barnard of Corriganville, Cumberland's representative in the national marbles tournament at Asbury Park, N. J., slipped to fourth place in League 6 after the second day of shooting.

Kopperston, W. Va., the smallest town in the 31st annual event, took over the leadership of the circuit with a 22-8 record. Pittsburgh, Pa. is second with a 20-10 mark while Salem, Va., leader yesterday, fell to third place on its 17-13 mark. Cumberland is fourth (14-16), Wausau, Wis., fifth (12-18) and Long Branch, Va. (5-25), again last.

Monica Rice, girl champion from Philadelphia and daughter of former residents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Rice, kept pace in her league and held onto third place. Niles, Ohio's "mister-miss" is the leader.

Oldis And Roig Are Farmed Out By Nats

WASHINGTON, June 21 (AP)—The Washington Senators called up a Cuban shortstop from their Charlotte farm club today and promptly assigned him a starting role.

The new Senator is Jose Valdivielso Lopez, who has been hitting .310 for the Class A South Atlantic League Washington farm club. At the same time, the Senators sent two other players to Charlotte, catcher Bob Oldis and infielder Tony Roig. Both had been used sparingly this season. Roig's average is .236 while Oldis has no hits in eight times at bat.

Mt. Savage To Drill

Cubs' Attendance Surpasses 1954

CHICAGO, June 21 (AP)—The Chicago Cubs today passed their 1954 home paid attendance for the corresponding period.

When 22,886 paid to see the pace-making National League Brooklyn Dodgers oppose the Cubs at Wrigley field in the opener of a three game series, the Chicagoans' attendance soared to 325,167 for the first 27 home games.

This was 10,988 more than the 1954 Cubs drew for the same span, and marked the first time since opening day the Cubs' 1955 attendance has passed last year's figures in a comparative basis.

Largest strictly rural hospital in the United States is Grace hospital in Banner Elk, N. C.

Babe May Undergo Major Operation

GALVESTON, Tex., June 21 (INS)—The physician attending Babe Didrikson Zaharias, the famous woman athlete, said today she may have to undergo a major operation within the next few days.

Mrs. Zaharias is in the John Sealy Hospital in Galveston suffering from a ruptured disc in her spine.

Dr. S. R. Snodgrass said he had hoped her condition could be cured with traction and therapy but that she is showing no improvement at all.

She has been confined to bed for the past 10 days and is suffering severe pain.

The league leaders amassed 23 hits, Frank Urbas and "Bee" Scarpelli accounting for ten of the safeties. Urbas banged a homer, three doubles and a single while Scarpelli connected for three two-baggers and two one-bag knock. Lease garnered three bingles and Moreland hit for the circuit. Kline paced Stringtown with a triple and double.

Ronnie Schad larruped a homer and single and Clay Leydig and Irv Hoselrode garnered a two-bagger and single apiece to spark Kennell's Mill. Jack Clauson, Johnny Price and Joe Becker had two hits each for the losers. One of Clauson's belts was a triple.

Ramey Will Attend National Federation Sessions In Maine

Arthur G. Ramey, director of athletics for Allegany County high schools, will leave on Thursday for York Harbor, Maine, to attend the 36th annual conference of the National Federation of State High School Athletic Associations as one of the representatives to the national meeting from the Maryland Public Secondary Schools Athletic Association. This will mark the seventh straight year that Ramey has attended the summer conferences of the national organization.

While at York Harbor, Ramey expects to complete plans for the football rules clinic which has become an annual project sponsored by the Allegany County Board of Education. The 1955 clinic, which will be scheduled for an August date, will mark the fifth year that the clinic has been held here.

In past years the consultants have been Henry V. Porter, executive secretary of the Federation; Patrick Tork, University of West Virginia; A. A. Schabinger, director of the Official Sports Film Service; and Milton F. Sprunger, assistant executive secretary of the Illinois High School League.

Arrangements for the August clinic will be worked out co-operatively between Ramey and William R. Fugitt, executive secretary of the West Virginia State High School Association. Dates must be agreed upon and the services of a consultant secured.

Others from Maryland who will attend as representatives from the State Association are Crescent J. Bride, Rockville, Stephen A. Lerda, Manchester, and Andrew T. Norgan, Baltimore.

Brooks Win Over Cubs In 11th, 5-2

Newcombe Chalks Up 12th Win Of Season

CHICAGO, June 21 (AP)—Pitcher Don Newcombe's second double of the game drove across two runs in a five-run Brooklyn 11th which gave the pace-setting Dodgers a 7-2 victory over the second-place Chicago Cubs today.

Towering Newcombe registered his 12th victory against only one defeat as he scattered six hits, including a triple and the No. 15 homer by shortstop Ernie Banks, who scored both Cub runs.

Newcombe, beaten only by the Cubs, struck out nine. The decisive Dodger run, breaking a 2-2 tie, came in the 11th on Roy Campanella's leadoff double, his fourth hit of the game watched by 22,886, and Sandy Amoros' single.

Then the roof fell in on the Cubs. The defeat which left the Bruins 12 games behind the Dodgers was charged to Warren Hacker, his fifth against seven victories.

Hacker quit in the 11th after the Dodgers had moved ahead 3-2 as Don Hoak, running for Campanella, scampered across on Amoros' single to right.

Campanella, who had two doubles and two singles, left because of a slightly bruised left knee.

Banks blasted his homer to tie the score at 2-2 in the seventh after scoring the first Cub run in the fifth. The Cub shortstop led off Chicago's fifth with a triple and scored on Dee Fondy's single.

Pony Loop To Hold Booster Game July 2

The Pony Baseball League, co-sponsored by the local B.P.O. Elks and the City Recreation Department, will hold a Booster Game Saturday, July 2, at Penn Avenue Field.

The circuit comprises four teams with an average of 20 players per team. For the past weeks the teams have been practicing and boys 15 and 17 years old interested in playing can obtain the necessary information at the Rec Department in City Hall.

New catchers' equipment purchased by the Elks and uniform with the name of the lodge inscribed on the front will be distributed by the managers of each team this week.

Klosterman Hurls No-Hit Contest In Dapper Dan League

Tommy Klosterman pitched a no-hitter last evening in his initial start of the season as the Indians defeated the Braves in a Dapper Dan Little League game at Penn Avenue Field by the score of 9-0.

Klosterman also slammed a homer for Manager "Whip" Kreitzburg's aggregation. Eddie "Foxy" Gaus paced the Indians' attack with three singles and Lee Judy collected a triple and single in three trips.

The Phillies outlasted the Cardinals to win at East Side Field by the score of 13-11.

A three-run rally decided this game in the fifth inning. Glenn Shipway tripped to right and scored when Dick Smith was safe on an error. Roger Growden doubled Smith home with what proved to be the winning tally and Donald Nave's single scored Growden with the insurance tally.

Growden, Nave and Griffey of the Phillies and Reynolds of the Cards had two hits each. Scores: BRAVES 000 000-0 0 2

U.S. Women Net Stars Triumph At Wimbledon

Hart, Brough, Fleitz Win Opening Tests

By STERLING SLAPPEY

WIMBLEDON, England, June 21 (AP)—The big three of Wimbledon ladies—Doris Hart, Louise Brough and Beverly Fleitz—took their opening matches of the 69th All England Tennis Championships today with hardly a deep breath.

With Maureen Connolly in the press box instead of the center court which she ruled for three years, the Hart-Brough-Fleitz trio appears all but sure to give the United States still another Wimbledon ladies champion.

But it was no all milk and honey for the other Americans.

Fifth-seeded Mrs. Dorothy Head Knode of Alameda, Calif., barely scraped home. Kay Hubbell of Boston, unseeded but highly regarded, and Arvilla McGuire of Piedmont, Calif., took beatings and sixth-seeded Darlene Hard of Long Beach, Calif., dropped a set before winning.

The American men, who took part only in doubles today, also had a few troubles although the favored teams of all managed to come through.

Top-seeded Miss Hart of Coral Gables, Fla., the 1951 Wimbledon champion, defeated Mrs. Nell Hopman of Australia 6-1, 6-0.

Miss Brough, Wimbledon singles winner in 1948, 49 and 50 and almost permanent owner of the doubles title, disposed of Britain's Rosemary Walsh, 6-0, 6-2.

Third-seeded Mrs. Fleitz disposed of Germany's Mrs. Inge Pohnmann, 6-0, 6-0.

In doubles, top-seeded Tony Trabert of Cincinnati and Vic Seixas of Philadelphia won from Britain's Roger Becker and J. E. Barrett, 6-6, 6-2, 6-1 after beating down a determined first-set effort by 22-year-old Becker. Grim and businesslike, fourth-seeded Ham Richardson of Baton Rouge, La., and Budge Patty of Los Angeles and Paris won easily from Austria's clowning Freddy Huber and Franz Saiko.

Australia's top doubles team—Rex Hartwig and Hoad and Mervyn Rose and George Worthington—kept pace with the Americans although they didn't win quite as easily.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Dorothy Manners

(Substituting for vacationing Louella Parsons)

HOLLYWOOD, June 21 (INS)—James Mason seems to be definitely changing his mind about retiring from acting, independent producers Vic Orsatti and Joe Newman took a chance and sent him the script of "Prelude to a Murder."

If James accepts, he gets not only a real spy thriller and a top salary but also a trip half around the world. Orsatti and Newman, who just completed "This Island Earth" for U-I release, are in New York today on the first lap of a trip to scout locations.

Under the banner of their Sabre Productions, the boys will shoot "Murder in London, Istanbul and Hong Kong."

Even Bob Hope will have to keep an eye on his laugh lines when he starts swapping close-ups with George Sanders—he of the lifted eyebrow and sharp wit—in "King of Hearts."

So important is Sanders' part that he gets co-star billing, an honor usually reserved for Bing Crosby. It's a funny story about a "ghost" cartoonist (like a ghost writer), played by Sanders.

Paramount gets this comedy started before Bob makes "Not for Money" with Katharine Hepburn in Europe.

Joan Crawford has received official notice from Columbia to be in Hollywood by August 2 to start "The Way We Are." She and Al Steele are scheduled to come down out of the clouds (literally) by planning into New York July 15. We'll see what happens.

It's my private opinion that this picture may jolly well wind up her career. She has a contract to make it and she's not a gal to go back on her word. But judging from reports coming back from Europe, Joan is no longer the ambition ridden woman who can talk of nothing but her last and next movies. She's very, very happy being Mrs. A. I. Steele.

Hollywood in short: Gene Tierney, who expected to be here two weeks on added scenes for "Left Hand of God," finished in four days and caught the plane out of Hollywood Saturday night.

Ingrid Bergman never answered the invitation of her old friend, Paul Henreid, to co-star with him in "Rendezvous in Vienna"—in Vienna—so he's looking for another leading lady.

Debbie Reynolds looked pert and anything but unhappy dining with married couple friends at Sportsman's Lodge, didn't even seem to mind everyone in the crowded room slipping by to take a look at her.

Olive Carey and Harry Carey Jr., who are mother and son in private life, play mother and son in "The Searchers." John Wayne's movie.

That's all today.

TV System To Control Expressway Auto Traffic Is Undergoing Tests At Detroit

By JAMES SMALLEGAN

DETROIT, June 21 (AP)—Before long Detroit traffic cops may ease themselves into overstuffed chairs in front of a television set and go to work.

And from there it will be their assignment to see that traffic keeps its booming (55-mile-an-hour speed limit) pace on expressways. But tickets for speeders and zig-zaggers will be for the motorcycle boys.

To demonstrate traffic control, two closed-circuit television systems are being trained on zooming traffic along the expressways.

Newsman and city officials got their first look at this unique television show recently. Judging from the oohs and ahs, they liked what they saw.

As police Traffic Director James A. Hoye put it: "There's nothing that will woo a driver more than a smooth-running expressway. And there's nothing that tries any driver's patience more than to find himself on a jammed-up expressway without a way of getting off."

This, in effect, is the pitch Michigan Bell Telephone Co. used to promote Detroit's TV control test.

If it works—and no one is certain yet that it will—up to 24 TV cameras may be mounted overhead about 800 feet apart on the John C. Lodge and Edsel Ford expressways. They would overlap in vision and swing around in the opposite direction at the push of a button.

Michigan Bell, which set the system up on a 30-day free trial for the city, explains it this way:

Only four receivers—two for each expressway—would be needed. The picture would flit from camera to camera at 8-second intervals right down the length of each expressway. A push of a button from the monitor room would stop the sequence or whip a camera around.

When an accident occurred on the expressway, signal lights at every entrance would flick to red—stopping the innocent driver from entering and bogging down in honking traffic. From the monitor room, a quick radio call would dispatch police cars and wreckers to the scene.

But there are "ifs." Alger F. Malo, director of streets and traffic, put it thus:

"Will it work at night? Will it work in the rain? And if it does work, how much will it cost?"

The telephone company readily admits it is experimenting, but came up with answers to the last two.

Richard H. Prediger, special accounts sales manager for Michigan Bell, said it should work in the rain. Windows directly in front of all cameras have windshield wipers in constant motion when it's wet.

And, while watching members of Detroit's City Council wince, he reported two cameras now set up would cost about $1,700 a month for round-the-clock operation. "But the more cameras you use the less the price will be in proportion," Prediger added.

Michigan Bell has done considerable research and has found no other state using the television system on expressways.

The two-camera system will be used 12 to 14 hours daily for the next month while city officials and police decide whether it actually will help prevent traffic bogs and work under all conditions.

Up to 115,000 cars whip over the 3½-mile Lodge expressway every day while 101,000 use the Ford expressway's 8 miles. Neither is yet completed.

Mayor Albert E. Cobo, sees far-reaching possibilities for TV control.

"If we eventually had telephoto lenses and direct radio control to police cars, we could sneak up on speeders' license plates with the cameras, tip off a police car nearby and haul them over," mused the mayor.

On The Line

by Bob Considine

NEW YORK, June 21 (INS)—Looking back on it, Father's Day wasn't too tough. Expensive, certainly, but not overly grueling. Along about September 15, when I've finished paying for the presents the kids were kind enough to give me, it will likely seem quite pleasant in retrospect.

I'd like to leave one suggestion for Father's Day, 1956. Mothers should brief the moppets on what the kids are giving to their sires. It's a little unnerving, especially with a hangover, when a clear-eyed child comes to you too early on the morning of Father's Day, presses a pretty wrapped package in your numb paws and sings (off-key):

Happy Father's Day to you
Happy Father's Day to you
Happy Father's Day to you
Happy Father's Day to you.

Obviously, the little jerk has forgotten your name and is vamping while he searches his memory. But before you can confront him with this he says:

"Okay, pop, open it. I want to see what I gave you."

It's always a big surprise to the donor. This time one of the kids, to her complete astonishment and mine, gave me a jewel-studded mouse trap. If anything, she was more bewildered than I, due mainly to certain difficulties she has been having with spelling. She looked at the box the extraordinary device came in (it's a paper-clip, actually) and read, with slow amazement:

"Moose trap. How could you catch a mouse with this little old thing?"

Two kids gave me presents with cards which read:

Guess I was sure
One lucky kid
To get the Darned swell dad
I did.

And:
Happy Father's Day to my pop
(Who's a saint)
From his offspring
(Who ain't)

Pretty touching, but somewhat marred by the fact that neither of them was speaking to me at the time.

Another child, who gave me a 5-gallon tin of aromatic spirits of ammonia (he had been led to believe it was ambergris), signed his most affectionate Father's Day card "Dennis Considine." He is a child who wants no confusion about on the egg for 80 days, and wastes away to half his weight—the lucky bum. A fish named the tilapia carries the eggs around in his mouth until they hatch. The midwife toad, a male curiously enough, wraps the eggs around his legs until hatching time.

We just get mouse traps.

Television And Radio

by John Crosby

End Of Season

I have a strange, almost perverted enthusiasm for watching comedians say farewell for the season. All those sentimental good-byes, the moist kisses thrown at us, all that fervent, if wildly optimistic thanks for having watched the show all year long. (I feel terribly undeserving of all this gratitude because there's not a comedian alive I've watched all year long.) And don't forget to turn in again next fall when the comedian devoutly hopes he'll be back on the air.

There's something terribly affecting about those goodbye parties, as though they didn't roll around relentlessly year after year just like the income tax. The other night I had a good cry over the departure of Red Skelton and another good cry over the temporary loss of Milton Berle. There used to be a standard operating procedure for these farewell shows. The comedian would call in Rochester or Arnold or Art and ask Rochester or Arnold or Art what he planned to do for his vacation and then there would be a lot of jokes about the Catskills. ("The rooms are so small the mice are hunched.") sort of thing. Berle has just completed his seventh season, which is a television life span roughly comparable to the rise and fall of the Roman Empire. During that period he has gone through more metamorphoses than a butterfly—and there's more yet to come.

First, he was a rough-and-tumble nightclub comic who, while he didn't exactly do a single, was certainly visible for the whole hour. Then he was toned down, dressed up in ordinary men's clothes for a change, and turned into a comedian whom the stooges bounced the jokes off of. And the other night he was a sort of Ed Sullivan with jokes—just walking around introducing the innumerable guests like Martha Raye, Joan Blondell and Steve Allen, none of whom had been given much to do.

Well, that's the way television is. The set format which was so conspicuously successful in radio has been conspicuously the other way in television and Berle, whose shows have been in the top ten all year, has showed great good sense to keep experimenting with new types of shows. Even if you come up with a clunker now and then, constant change keeps the audience coming back.

While the Berle plans for next season are not entirely set, the prospectus has been roughly outlined and sounds both exciting and significant. Berle will probably do 13 shows, one every three weeks, conceivably all of them in color from the West Coast, where there are more facilities.

Virtually every show will be different from every other one and each will have a different set of writers and directors. "It'll be like making 13 live movies," says Uncle Miltie. Berle is dickering with Paddy Chayesky, Gore Vidal and some top comedy writers.

All this writing talent will come up with revues, musical comedy, comedy with music, straight drama, mystery melodrama, satire and—well, what else is there? Gee, remember when Berle used to enter down the center aisle dressed in long striped underwear with false teeth and a wig? The boy's come a long way.

Contract Bridge

by Josephine Culbertson

THE WORST PLAN

IT GOES without saying that in most hands declarer must select the most propitious line of play from the two or three (or possibly more) lines that may be reasonable. Sometimes, however, so much discrimination is needed—declarer merely has to reject the worst plan. That was the case in the deal below.

North dealer.
North-South vulnerable.

♠ A Q 9 8	♠ 5
♥ K 9 7 5	♥ 8 6 3
♦ 4 2	♦ K Q J 10
♣ J 9 8 3	♣ 8 5 4
	10 4
♠ K J 10 7 4 3
♥ A J
♣ Q 7 2

The bidding:

North	East	South	West
1♠	3♦	3♠	Pass
4♦	Pass	4♥	Pass
6♠	Pass	Pass	Pass

West opened the deuce of diamonds. This was rather significant in the light of East's pre-emptive bid, and declarer lost no time about putting up dummy's ace. Two rounds of trumps followed, and then South started on the clubs with the obvious hope of discarding his losing diamond on dummy's fourth club. To do this, however, he had to find a 3-3 break of the club suit, and since this division is never probable and was particularly improbable in the light of East's diamond length, South had no right to complain over the actual 4-2 club break.

Now, since West was clearly out of diamonds, it would have been simplicity itself for declarer to lead dummy's last club, discarding his own diamond and making West a present of the trick, thus forcing a heart return from West. But South was apparently blind to this opportunity. All he could see was the heart finesse. So he let the heart queen ride—and that ended the matter. Down one.

A second way to make the hand, after drawing trumps, was to give East a diamond trick, then to squeeze West between hearts and clubs; and still another way (but only because West had the heart king) was to cash the club tricks and ruff the fourth club, then throw West in by leading the ace and jack of hearts. In short, almost any line of play would have worked except the line South chose.

State Firemen's 63d Convention Opens Today

3,000 Expected To Attend Sessions

Over 3,000 volunteer firemen and members of ladies auxiliary units from throughout the state are expected to attend the 63d annual Maryland State Volunteer Firemen's Convention which officially opens at 2 p. m. today.

Yesterday some 350 early arrivals registered at convention headquarters located at the National Guard Armory on South Centre Street.

David E. Kirk, chairman of the housing committee, last night said delegates are expected to register today from 270 volunteer companies and 173 auxiliary units.

Registration will continue today from 9 a. m. through 9 p. m. Information on reservations and other convention data will be given at convention headquarters. Information for reservations may be obtained by calling 7364.

Yesterday the state officers and trustees met in executive session in LaVale Fire Hall. A banquet was held last night at the fire hall for state officers and ladies auxiliary officers.

Smith To Preside

The convention will be called to order at 2 p. m. today in the armory by John W. Smith, state president. The invocation by Rev. James W. Minter of Baltimore, state chaplain, will follow.

Mayor Roy W. Eves will give the address of welcome with the response by J. Millard Tawes, state comptroller and past president of the state firemen's association.

The reception, credential and resolution committees will be appointed, past presidents will be recognized, and the 1954 convention minutes will be read.

Officers and committee chairmen will be introduced. Also scheduled is the presentation of proposed changes to the constitution and by-laws and recommendations of officers and committees.

Prior to the presentation of instructions' shoulder patches by Robert C. Byrnes, head of Fire Service Extension for the University of Maryland, there will be the report of the association's fire service committee.

Dr. Elkins To Speak

At 3 p. m. Dr. Wilson H. Elkins, president of the University of Maryland, will speak. This also will be Dr. Elkins' first official visit to Cumberland.

Following will be a panel discussion on "Getting the Most Out of Radio." Joseph Giammatteo, chief of the Glenn Echo Fire Company, will talk on "Laws Governing Use"; a member of the State Police, "Speaking Clearly Over the Air"; Robert Smith, of Prince Georges County, "Prevention of Mass Confusion," and Ben Poin dexter, civilian employee at the Patuxent Naval Air Base, "A Countywide Alarm System."

At 4 p. m. there will be a joint memorial service in the armory for the deceased members of the association and the ladies auxiliary.

The second session tomorrow will begin at 7:30 p. m. with an address by Shirley Ewing, director of Civil Defense for Maryland.

Luber On Program
Del. John C. Luber (D-Balto 5) speaker of the House of Delegates, will follow Ewing on the speakers' platform.

Robert Creaghan and Ersel D. Davey, both attached to state CD headquarters at Pikesville, will show and describe Civil Defense movies.

Frank Trenner, deputy chief of the Baltimore City Fire Department, will talk on "Why Every County Should Have Its Own Fire Prevention Bureau."

The first day's activities will close with a variety show.

All sessions of the firemen will be held in the State Armory while the ladies auxiliary will hold its convention in the City Shrine Club.

Thursday's highlights will be a picnic, the election of officers, and an address by Gov. McKeldin.

Friday's big feature will be the convention parade that starts at 7 p. m. at Laing Avenue and Fifth Street.

Walsh Will Attend U. S. Court Parley

Former Attorney General William C. Walsh will leave today for Asheville, N. C., where he will attend the conference of the Fourth Judicial Circuit of the United States as a delegate from the Maryland Bar Association.

Federal judges of all states in the Fourth Circuit, Maryland, West Virginia, Virginia and North and South Carolina, will attend the conference along with representatives of the bar from each state, attorneys general and U. S. attorneys.

He will be met at Asheville by his son, William Walsh, who is law clerk to Judge Morris Soper.

Weather

The weather was very "close" and sultry yesterday during the afternoon although a slight breeze was noticeable occasionally. Summer officially began last night at 11:32 o'clock for those on slow time and for those on fast time summer began this morning at 12:32 o'clock. Yesterday was the longest day of the year for those on slow time while today will be the longest day for those on fast time. The high temperature yesterday was 87 degrees with a low reading of 61 degrees.

State Firemen Meet Here

State and county volunteer firemen's officials and auxiliary leaders are shown in an informal gathering last night after a luncheon in LaVale Fire Hall in preparation for the opening today of the 63d convention of the Maryland State Firemen's Association, which is expected to bring 3,000 delegates here. In the photo (left to right) are John W. Smith of Annapolis, state president; Marjorie Pryor, Clarysville, president of the Allegany-Garrett Counties auxiliary; Della Daugherty of Ocean City, president of the state auxiliary, and Delbert Valentine, District 16, president of the Allegany-Garrett Counties association.

Texans On New York Trip Stop Over In Queen City

Texans are known for doing things in a big way and a story related yesterday by Allegany County Schools Superintendent Ralph R. Webster proves that such is true.

About two months ago, Webster received a letter from Sealy, Texas, with the information that a group of some 35 senior students were planning a trip by school bus from their home town to New York City.

A complete itinerary of the trip was enclosed and the Texans asked permission to stay overnight in one of the local school gymnasiums.

Webster wrote a letter to the high school for added information and in the meantime arrangements were made for the seniors to use Fort Hill's gymnasium.

The tourists were scheduled to arrive in Cumberland Sunday night and everything was all set. Webster said he got a call from the family of one of the Texans saying that his Navy orders had been changed and for him to get back home as soon as possible.

Webster went to Fort Hill about 11 p. m. Sunday to relay the information to the custodian but there was no bus and no seniors. He found out later that the bus had had mechanical trouble along the Pennsylvania Turnpike on the trip toward Cumberland.

The students arrived about 1:30 a. m. Monday and spent the night at the gym. The seniors were well-chaperoned, Webster added, and cooked their own meals on their trip.

The group left Monday, "onward to Texas," but didn't get far out of the Queen City when the bus again developed mechanical trouble.

So the seniors went to Constitution Park on Monday afternoon and enjoyed the recreation facilities. They also spent Monday night at the gym and yesterday were finally on their way back home to Sealy, Texas.

'Evicted' From City

Three men arrested on Saturday while playing three-card monte in the stables at Fairgo were ordered to leave the city yesterday by the State's Attorney's office. State Attorney Paul M. Fletcher said that if they return, the men will face prosecution.

Meanwhile the girls named candidates for the city election set for tomorrow. Margaret Ann Egan of Catonsville will run for mayor on the Nationalist party, with Virginia Lillard of Cumberland, candidate for City Council president, and Geraldine Stein of Anne Arundel County, candidate for comptroller, as her running mates.

Opposing them will be Ruth LeRoy of Pikesville, for mayor, Carol Sanders of Glen Burnie, for council president, and Olivia Seaggs of Laurel, for comptroller, the Federalist aspirants.

Both of the mock governments will end Saturday.

Board Office To Close
The Allegany County Board of Education will close at noon today in observance of Cumberland Day at Fairgo.

Soil Conservation Camp Programs Planned at Pleasant Valley Recreation Area this summer.
He is interested in music and will lead group singing at the camps. Lindsey plays the piano and cornet. Yesterday he was taken around the county area by James Weamert, assistant county agent, who acquainted him with this section.

Lindsey said his experience in extension work here and in other counties will give him an insight as to whether to go into teaching or extension work. He expects to graduate from the university next June.

At the university he is majoring in Vo-Ag education. During his stay in Allegany County he will attend the Tri-State 4-H Camp and the

Democrats To Rally In Baltimore

Members of the Allegany County Democratic State Central Committee have been invited to attend a state-wide meeting of Democrats in Baltimore tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock in the Emerson Hotel, Baltimore.

T. Barton Harrington, Baltimore, chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee of Maryland has communicated with each member of the committee and with other prominent Democrats, advising them that Paul M. Butler, chairman of the Democratic National Committee, will be at the conference. Butler has requested that Democratic leaders from all parts of the state attend.

Also present will be Mayor Thomas D'Alesandro, national committeeman from Maryland, and Mrs. M. Alice Canoles, national committeewoman from Maryland.

Harrington told Democrats here the meeting will be for the purpose of discussing problems of the party with a view toward a Democratic victory next year.

Thomas B. Finan, chairman of the local committee, said last night Allegany County will be represented at the conference, and that some members of the committee are planning to attend.

State Senator Charles M. See has been re-elected for the fourth consecutive time to serve as president of the Maryland School for the Blind Alumni Association.

The annual election was held at the Overlea school over the weekend.

An amendment to the constitution extends the term of office to two years. It had formally been for one year. See and the other new officers will hold their positions until June, 1957.

Officers include Earl Ball, Baltimore, first vice president; Edmund Browning, Washington, second vice president; Edwin Horchler, Cumberland, recording secretary; George Weinstein, Baltimore, corresponding secretary; Lloyd Mitchell, Overlea, treasurer, and Daniel Roberts, Baltimore, sergeant at arms.

Meanwhile both groups continued to elect their officials. The boys named Warren Donohue of Mt. St. Joseph High School in Baltimore as mayor of mythical Legion City and Norman Davis of Wicomico High as mayor of Key City.

Later in the day Donohue was named gubernatorial candidate for the Federalist party and Davis was named to run with him as candidate for comptroller. Stuart Hanlein of Takoma Park was named the party's candidate for attorney general.

Thomas Longbeane of Montgomery Blair High, Silver Spring was named to oppose Donohue by the Constitutional party. His running mates for the general election Friday will be Ronald Borker of Brooklyn Park High School, candidate for attorney general, and Bob Menzer of North west High, Hyattsville, for comptroller.

Meanwhile the girls named candidates for the city election set for tomorrow. Margaret Ann Egan of Catonsville will run for mayor on the Nationalist party, with Virginia Lillard of Cumberland, candidate for City Council president, and Geraldine Stein of Anne Arundel County, candidate for comptroller, as her running mates.

Opposing them will be Ruth LeRoy of Pikesville, for mayor, Carol Sanders of Glen Burnie, for council president, and Olivia Seaggs of Laurel, for comptroller, the Federalist aspirants.

Both of the mock governments will end Saturday.

4-H Boys Win Awards

Edward L. Ewald, commercial manager for the Potomac Edison Company here, presents PE awards to Jerry Lancaster and Bernard "Bucky" Gross, both of LaVale, for their recent prize-winning electrical demonstrations in connection with their 4-H work. The presentation took place last night in the office of County Agent Joseph M. Steger.

Bicentennial Queen Will Be Chosen

Plans for the selection of Miss Fort Cumberland, who will reign as Queen of the Fort Cumberland Bicentennial, were inaugurated here this week.

The plans are being prepared by the Queen's Contest Committee, headed by Miss Gerardine Pritchard.

Other members of the committee, members of the Cumberland Business and Professional Women's Club, sponsor of the contest, are Mrs. Gladys Daniels, Mrs. Thelma Schwartzweider, Miss Orpha-Bonita Pritchard, Miss Helen Beck, Miss Lillian Compton, Miss Mary Jo Logsdon, Miss Elizabeth Philson and Miss Eudora Jochum.

Miss Fort Cumberland and her court of 10 girls will be featured in the Bicentennial spectacle, "Redskins and Redcoats," which will be presented August 15-20 at the Fort Hill Stadium.

The Queen and her court will also be a feature of Bicentennial parades.

Miss Fort Cumberland and her court will be selected from among candidates nominated by organizations of the Tri-State area.

Invitations will be sent out soon to some 490 organizations of the area for a meeting planned here June 30.

Complete plans for the contest will be explained at the meeting.

Davis Resident Is Killed In Mine Accident

Alfonse S. Zalatoris Crushed To Death

A 46-year-old coal miner, Alfonso Samuel Zalatoris, of Davis, was crushed to death Monday afternoon under a rock or roof fall at the Cassidy Mine of the Three Forks Coal Company of Randolph County, located in the Elkins area.

This is the first fatality reported in the mine in many years. Full details of the accident were not learned.

Mr. Zalatoris was a veteran of World War II, having served in the U. S. Navy. He also was a member of Local 4419, United Mine Workers of America at Cassidy.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Beulah (Counts) Zalatoris, Davis, a daughter, Sandra, and a son, Alfonso Samuel Zalatoris Jr., at home.

Also surviving are a brother, Anthony Zalatoris, of Davis, two sisters, Mrs. Anastasia Balcas, Binghamton, N. Y., and Miss Sunee Parker, Baltimore.

The body is at the Spiggle Funeral Home in Davis where a service will be conducted today at 7 p. m. (EST) with Rev. William J. Trowbridge, pastor of the Methodist Church, Davis, officiating.

Burial will be in the Arlington (Va.) National Cemetery tomorrow.

Jockey Hurt At Fairgo

One of the jockeys in the current races at Fairgo was hospitalized yesterday after the horse he was riding balked at the starting gate, turned around and upset on him.

Removed to Memorial Hospital in the Corrigville Volunteer Fire Company ambulance was John McCracken of Ontario, Canada. He was treated at the track by Dr. Benedict Skitarelic, who advised that McCracken be taken to the hospital for further observation.

The jockey suffered abrasions about the face, and told Dr. Skitarelic the horse pinned him to the ground for a while. Soma Miss was the horse McCracken was riding in the fifth race.

Immediately after the accident occurred the track stewards ordered that the horse be "scratched" from the race.

Brothers' Beards, Numbers Grow
It's still going up—the number of beard growers, that is. Today's total is and undoubtedly there are more to come. You can have fun and help Cumberland celebrate the Bicentennial by joining the Brothers of the Brush. All men are eligible. To join, stop at Bicentennial Headquarters, North Centre Street, opposite City Hall.

Man Drowns During Swim In Potomac

Robinette's Body Found By Police

The body of a 32-year-old Cumberland man who drowned in the Potomac River while swimming was found early this morning by auxiliary police approximately an hour after two companions reported he had disappeared in the water at the base of the new interstate bridge.

Police, using a small rowboat and grappling hooks, brought the body of Eddie Robinette, former local amateur boxer who lived at 162 North Centre Street, to the surface shortly before 2 a. m. The body was located almost at the same point where Robinette had dived into the stream from the rocks on the Maryland side about 12:40 a. m.

Frank Metz, 31, of 91 Henderson Avenue, and Paul Goetz, 25, of Valley Road, told police that the trio had been fishing on the river since about 7 p. m. Tuesday.

They said Robinette disappeared below the surface of the waters shortly after diving into the stream when the three decided to swim for awhile.

Metz and Goetz swam in the river in an effort to locate the missing man. In the meantime, the Auxiliary Police Civil Defense Rescue Squad was called and arrived on the scene about 20 minutes after Robinette disappeared.

The squad began an immediate systematic check of the waters from a boat, using grappling hooks. Sgt. C. C. Roby and Detective Donald H. Smith along with State Police troopers were directing the search of the river at the new bridge just below the new industrial dam.

Smith picked up the missing man's clothes which were lying on several rocks at the base of the bridge on the Maryland side of the river. Police immediately began a check of the clothes to establish more positive identification of the missing man.

Meanwhile, numerous civilians moved their cars along the banks of the river with police vehicles and used their headlights to illuminate the area during the search.

The body was located at 1:48 a. m. by R. Stanton Byer of the Auxiliary Police and two other searchers.

Circus Slated Here Saturday
The Mills Brothers Circus, considered to be the largest motorized three-ring circus in the world and the second largest of its kind, will be held on Saturday at Mid-City Ball Park on Wineo Street.

There will be seating space for 5,000 persons under the big tent for the matinee performance at 2 p. m. and the evening performance at 8 o'clock.

Proceeds of the event will go toward the Allegany County League for Crippled Children. Co-sponsors of the circus are the Dapper Dans and Order of Alhambra.

Alex J. Schute, president of the Dapper Dans, is chairman with Peter J. Carpentieri, grand commander of the Order of Alhambra, Joseph H. Love and William V. Keegan as co-chairmen.

The circus, which was in Cumberland two years ago, has a number of acts which have appeared on television, and will feature some 40 tons of performing elephants.

Circus officials state that acts are presented by stars from 18 foreign countries as well as from the United States.

Tickets are available at the Wilson Hardware Company; Spa Bar; National Shirt Shop; Galen Bar; The Toy Shop; Keech's Drugstore; Hiner's Market and Divico's Delicatessen.
